Struck By Engine

Two Appleton men were injured in two different train accidents on the Ashland division of the Chicago and Northwestern railway Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

Victor A. Letter, mail clerk on train No. 111, the Ashland Limited, suffered several injuries in a train wreck at Weeds, near Sheboygan, Wednesday night. In the same wreck, James Gallagher, Green Bay, engineer, was killed and a score of passengers reported injured.

Vincent Goehler, 3 Henry-st., suffered minor injuries when struck by the engine of the southbound Ashland division passenger train No. 214 at Newberry-st. crossing at 11:45 Thursday morning.

The wreck near Sheboygan Wednesday night resulted when spreading rails caused the north bound train to go into the ditch. The accident occurred six miles south of Sheboygan.

A special train was sent to the wreck and a car filled with injured was rushed to hospitals in Sheboygan. Gallagher, the engineer, was buried under the engine when it teared the track. It is said.

Pitman Potrosky, also of Green Bay, escaped with minor bruises, as he was hurled clear of the wreck when the locomotive left the rails.

Mr. Letter's injuries consisted of a five-inch cut on the face and a severe ly wrenched knee.

Goehler was hurt on the Newberry-st. hill when he was walking along the track. He was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital. His injuries consisted of a cut on the right knee and bruises on the right hip and shoulder.

The wreck near Sheboygan was the cause of the delay in the arrival here of the northbound train No. 125, which was due here at 3:35 Thursday morning but did not arrive until 6:30.

LOGBOOK IS SILENT WITNESS IN WRECKS

Record Of Compass Station
Will Be Used As Testimony
In Destroyer Probe

San Diego, Calif.—The log of a radio compass station, whose signals the navigator of Destroyer Squadron 11, Wednesday testified were disregarded on the night of Sept. 8, when a change of course to the eastward carried seven vessels of the squadron squarely into the rocks off Hondo, Calif., is scheduled to appear as a silent witness before the navy court of inquiry investigating the disaster.

Both the log itself, which shows what signals were sent and received at Point Arguello between noon and midnight on Sept. 8, and the radio men on watch there during that time will be brought before the court for comparison with the previous testimony of witnesses concerning radio compass signals. It was announced Thursday by Lieutenant Commander Leslie Bratton, judge advocate of the court.

It is stated that the participation of an American banking syndicate in the first large scale post war loan contracted by a central European state on the international market is interesting and noteworthy.

G. O. P. Is Confronted With Negro Problem

Seek Motive For Murders And Suicide

Alexandria, Minn.—Inquiry by police which continued throughout the night had failed to reveal any motive early Thursday for the killing of Mrs. J. Willis Knox and her two daughters, Dorothy aged 10, and Virginia aged 8, by the father, who attacked the family members with an axe while they lay asleep in the family home, some time after midnight Wednesday, and then committed suicide by hanging himself to beams of an unfinished room in the second story of the residence.

The tragedy was not discovered until late Wednesday when a neighbor called at the ill-fated home. After repeated knocking at the door, the neighbor heard a faint groan and calling assistance, an entrance was forced into the house.

Mrs. Knox was found dead in one bedroom, with an ugly wound in her head, and the two girls were found in an adjoining room, Dorothy dead and Virginia fatally injured. She died several hours later at a local hospital. Search then disclosed the lifeless body of the father hanging from a beam in an unfinished room in the second story of the home. The axe with which the victims met death was found stowed away in a corner of the basement.

Mr. Knox was forty years old. He has just recently been elected as superintendent of the Sunday school of the Congregational church of Alexandria and stood high in the estimation of his fellow townsmen.

BIG AUDIENCE EXPECTED TO HEAR LENROOT

Badger Senator Will Present
Frank Discussion Saturday
Of National Situation

Vital government issues will be discussed by United States Senator Irvine L. Lenroot when he speaks at a public speaking Saturday evening at a public massing at Lawrence Memorial chapel. It will be the first address in some time by a Wisconsin legislator from Washington and it is expected that many will want to hear his frank discussion of the national situation.

Senator Lenroot is speaking in various Wisconsin cities and is pleading with his constituents to adhere to a common sense policy for the country and to refrain from activities that will undermine its fundamental basis of democracy.

In his address at Oaklawn Wednesday, he said:

"Unless we support the constitution it will become a mere scrap of paper."

"Too many people are prone to look upon it as a dusty old document that might have been of service some time but isn't of much use now. We must remember that it is the living thing and we are as much dependent on its protecting care as ever in the past."

"The principles of that great document were right and just when the sermon on the mount was written, and will be right and just for a long time to come."

"There will be no future for America if we are going to have a class government in the United States. We need to remember that what is going on in Russia, is what some men are trying to bring about in our own country."

"It is easy to tear down, and difficult to build up," he declared as he referred to radical forces which see so much that is good in Russia and so much that is bad in the United States. "What we need is more constructive work on the part of public officials and less destructive work on the part of politicians," he said.

HERRIN ALARMED AT IMMINENT TROUBLE

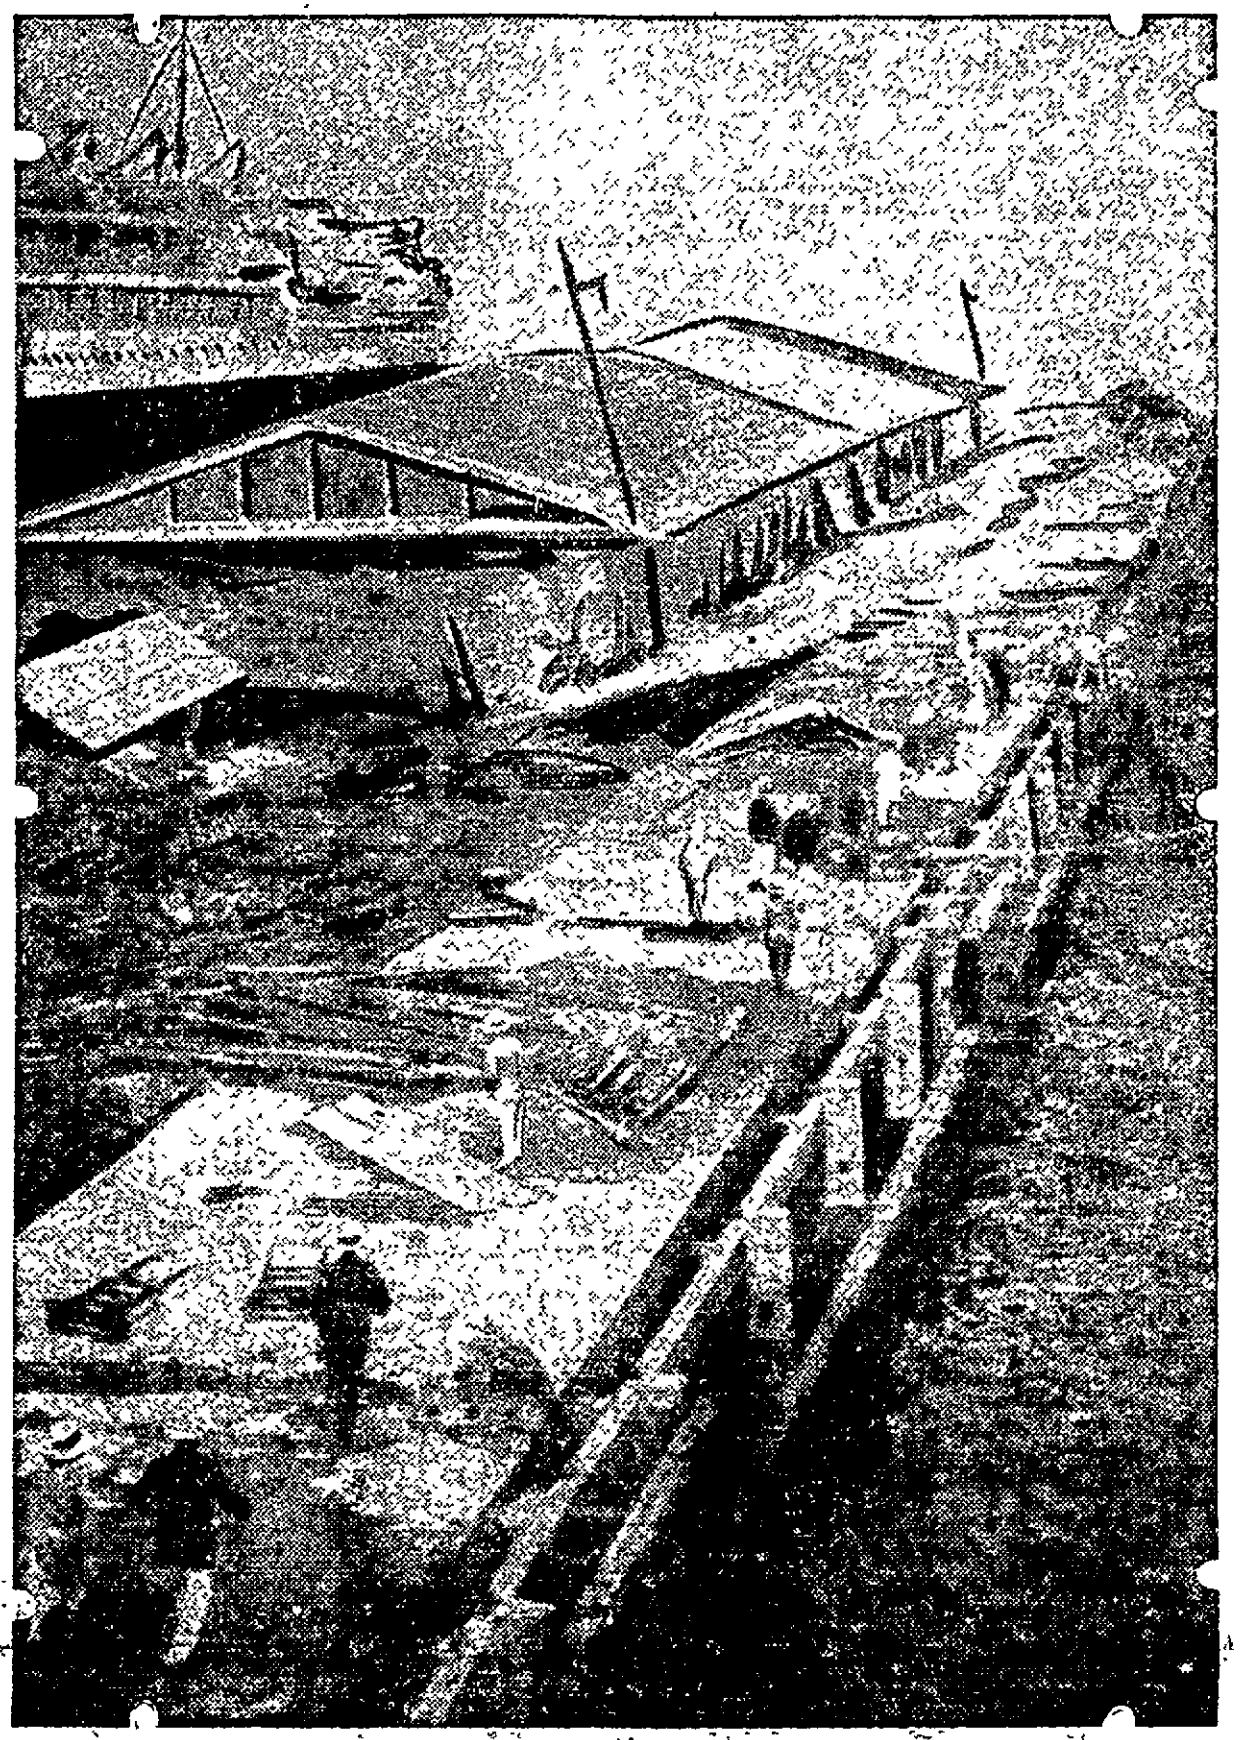

Marion, Ill.—The board of supervisors of Williamson Co. the scene of the Herrin mine killings, in a resolution adopted Thursday asserted the people are becoming alarmed and serious trouble seems imminent which is liable to break out at any moment. The resolution was in connection with alleged laxity in law enforcement and the feeling said to exist between the members of the Ku Klux Klan and the Knights of the Flaming Circle, an anti-klan organization.

The resolution demanded stricter enforcement of laws, particularly the prohibition law, and members of the board promised their personal cooperation to Sheriff George Galligan in raids.

The resolution declared roadhouses and resorts were operating openly in the county.

Attempts to burn a store and residence in Herrin, owned by proponents of prohibition, were made a fortnight ago, but little damage was done. So far no arrests have been made.

PREPARE FOR JAP RELIEF TAG DAY SATURDAY

Public Will Be Asked To Donate
Librally To Raise $1,000
Still Needed

Thousands of tags have been obtained by the local Japanese Relief committee in readiness for the tag day Saturday to wind up the local campaign for $2,500. Outagamie county's quota of the national Red Cross fund, a large number of high school girls will be asked to serve as taggers and the public will be asked to give liberally so there will be no deficit when the final count is made.

Approximately $1,000 must be raised by the tag day unless more gifts arrive tomorrow. The committee was informed by Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of the fund. The total now realized is $1,592.75.

Girls will be stationed at all the principal downtown corners and their places where people are found in numbers. This will form a convenient way for the givers to deposit their funds, especially those who have put off this matter and those who felt they could not give as much as a dollar.

Remittances or deposits of money still are receivable at the relief stations, the chamber of commerce and Post-Crescent offices. Checks should be made payable to the Japanese Relief fund.

Police Fear Riots After Girl's Death

Detroit—While three physicians appointed by Coroner James E. Burgess Thursday examined the body of Gladys Lava Lorenc, 13 year old Polish girl who, her father alleged, died Saturday as a result of mistreatment by police while under arrest on a charge of grand larceny, police are on guard in the vicinity of the girl's home to prevent any demonstration.

Two riot calls were sent to police headquarters Wednesday night and early Thursday as a result of alleged demonstrations. John Lorenc, father of the girl, says his daughter told him just before she died that police had abused her and forced her to take ice baths in an attempt to make her confess to the robbery of $100 from Joseph F. Anderson, who lived in the same building. He says there were bruises on the girl's body when it was brought from the hospital.

It was announced Thursday by the Publishers' association that the circulation of Wednesday morning's newspapers was 40 per cent of normal and Thursday's circulation was 70 per cent. Circulation Wednesday afternoon was 45 per cent.

Oklahoma Klan Chief Attacks Walton Record

LEAGUE WOULD AVERT TALK ON ROME ACTIONS

Geneva Convinced General European Situation Has Shown Improvement

By Associated Press
Geneva—The council of the league of nations failed to take definite action Thursday on the question of Italy's repudiation of the league's competency to intervene in the Italo-Greek situation. The council decided however, to proceed to a discussion of the interpretation of the league's covenant with the assistance of experienced jurists.

It was learned that the council had privately determined to avert the dangers of an open debate on Italy's refusal to recognize the league's competency to handle the Greco-Italo dispute.

It was said that ex-Premier Salandra of Italy opposed a public discussion. Lord Robert Cecil had agreed to this reluctantly, because he planned to make a detailed answer Thursday to Salandra's argument of a few days ago, especially on the occupation of Corfu.

SITUATION IMPROVED
It is understood there entered into the council's decision the conviction that the general European political situation is gradually improving, especially respecting reparations, and that the present was not an opportune moment to insist on an open debate.

This decision has been interpreted diversely by observers here. "Some consider it a victory for the Italian attitude, but the majority take the view that the council desires really to interpret the covenant without entering too brusquely into the Italo-Greek controversy."

The assembly of the league will meet Friday and it is considered likely that some debate on the league's competency in the Italo-Greek situation may arise.

Legislators Forestall Charges Of Acting In Favor Of Masked Bands

K. K. K. WON'T FIGHT NOW

Lawmakers Advocate Measure
Prohibiting Mob Violence
In Any Form

By Associated Press
Oklahoma City—To forestall charges that the extraordinary session of the Oklahoma legislature called to assemble Wednesday is a "Klan legislature," a committee of seven state representatives issued a statement Thursday in which they declared they advocated "a law prohibiting the wearing of masks, of masked assemblages, and of severe penalties for any floggings or mob violence of any form."

A signed statement declaring that Governor J. C. Walton has made the political bankrupt has hung the tattered habiliments of grotesque failure while making his last frantic bid for "public favor" was issued to the Associated Press here Thursday by N. C. Jewett, Grand Dragon of the Klan in Oklahoma.

Mr. Jewett declared that "despite the insidious insult to Klansmen in the offer of protection if they would withdraw from the order, we have been enjoying a record-breaking growth in membership in the past few years."

He asserts that the Klan is not going to fight back now and would leave it to the people of Oklahoma to settle the fight.

NO MORE TROOPS

Tulsa, Okla.—Adjutant General H. E. Markham said Thursday that he had not been authorized by Governor J. C. Walton to mobilize more troops for duty in Oklahoma City, which advised that it was reported such an order had been issued to prevent convening of the state legislature next Wednesday.

Although Governor Walton now admits he is fighting the Klan, the situation causes us no worry," Mr. Jewett said. "We are not going to fight back now. With a call for a special session of the legislature already issued, with impeachment proceedings well under way, the rising tide of protest from press and public at the method Mr. Walton is employing, there is every indication that the people of Oklahoma will settle the fight."

"The people are not happy. They are being compelled to pay the fiddler without being permitted to dance."

PERSONAL MOTIVES PLAY PART

"Moreover, the personal motives are playing too large a part for the good of the state. They have discovered that Mr. Walton did not crown on the Klan until he had learned that it did not smile upon him. It is a fact of indisputable record that he was irregularly made a member of the knights of the Ku Klux Klan, that a 'passport' or membership card was irregularly issued to him, and that recognition was then refused him."

"Photographic copies of documents bearing upon this circumstance have appeared in several Oklahoma papers. 'Saidly there is the personal reason growing out of his political disasters. His administration has been calamitously unpopular. Six weeks ago he was fighting for his political future; today he is fighting for his political existence."

"What attitude will the Klan take toward martial law in Oklahoma? Simply pursue the even tenor of its way and obey the law in letter and spirit. Klansmen are American citizens first and the only rights they will demand will be the rights of American citizens."

DEATH OF ROCKFORD NURSE IS MYSTERY

By Associated Press
Rockford, Ill.—Search for the man who brought the body of Miss Sara Olson, student nurse, into St. Anthony's hospital Tuesday night and immediately disappeared has been unavailing, the authorities declared Thursday.

The chemical analysis of the young woman's vital organs, ordered after an autopsy had failed to disclose a heart condition sufficient to cause death, has not been completed.

COLLEGE PREXY STEERS FROSH ON NARROW PATH

Evansville, Ind.—Attention to the financial, athletic, social, educational and religious phases of college environment was urged by Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern university in an address Thursday to the members of the freshman class of the institution. He warned them against extravagance, excessive interest in athletics and the evil of placing undue importance on social activities.

The educational aim, he said, should not be eclipsed by the other phases of college environment.

COUNCIL DEFERS ACTION ON BUYING FOURTH WARD PARK

Aldermen Will Hear Taxpayers At Massmeeting As To Wettengel Offer

Purchase of a park for the south side came up for a virtual "yes or no" decision at the regular meeting of the common council Wednesday evening with the offer of blocks 73 and 74 by Fred Felix Wettengel at a low price. Action was deferred, however, pending a test of sentiment among the taxpayers of the Fourth ward by the two aldermen by whom they are represented.

Mr. Wettengel placed a communication before the council in which he declared that this site, which previously had been considered as a park, was purchased by Appleton's new golf club for its course. An offer has been made of land since then, it was explained, of land which is far more suitable for golfing purposes. The club paid $5,500 for the tract and Mr. Wettengel offered it to the city at the same figure for immediate purchase as a park. The land had been bought by the club from persons represented by D. E. Laughlin, real estate dealer. Offers now had been made by other prospective purchasers at a higher figure, the author of the letter said, but his civic pride prompted him to give the city first opportunity to buy it at the cost price.

The council heard the communication and referred it to a committee of the whole. The council formed itself into such committee after the routine business of the evening had been disposed of, and then took up the matter in detail. Its recommendation when it rose to report was to defer action.

CONTAINS 55 ACRES

This tract contains 55 acres extending both north and south from Fremont-st. and bordering on East-st. Its southern extremity is Calumet-st. There is an abundance of trees on the land but objection was seen in the amount of swampy area it contained. It was explained, however, that drainage would be simple because of the ravines nearby being lower, and that practically all could be used for park purposes if desired.

Alderman R. F. McGilgan of the Fourth ward was highly in favor of its purchase when obtainable at $100 an acre, but Alderman Jerry Callahan, also of that ward, was opposed to this move, declaring that the location was not a desirable one. He believed another attempt should be made to acquire West park, which was bought by F. M. Johnston recently for gardening purposes.

Alderman August Laabs declared that when land within the city limits was offered the city at $100 an acre it was a bargain which should not be overlooked. He believed it was time the city did something to advance the Fourth ward and that this park would be one means of accomplishing this. The value of property fronting on the park would increase immediately, he said, and the higher assessments would make the ownership of the park worth while.

TOO BIG FOR PARK

Alderman Wood said he felt as if 55 acres was far too big a tract to buy for a park, but Alderman McGilgan answered his objection by saying that the city could sell part of it later in case it was found too large. Frequent references were made to the undesirability of the land because of the swamp holes it contained. It was said also that West park, while beautiful to look at, did not contain room enough for playgrounds, and that primarily is what parks are for. The proposed site would have ample

COLLEGE SCRAPS WILL BE STAGED AT PIERCE PARK

Classes Are Steaming Up Rivalry For Annual Contests Friday

The annual all college day, when the freshmen and sophomores settle their class scrap in organized contests will be held at Pierce park. All arrangements for furnishing meals for the classes will be made by special committees appointed on the first days of school.

Contests between the freshmen and sophomore girls will be a feature of the big class spirit day this year. The usual bag rush, tug o' war and similar events have been held each year for the men of the two classes but never before have the girls participated in the struggle for supremacy. The usual faculty senior baseball game will be staged as the result of the challenge presented to the faculty by the seniors on Thursday morning.

No definite arrangements had been made early on Thursday for the freshmen-sophomore football game which usually precedes the trip to the scene of the other battles. It is possible that the football game may be held on some other day or be left out of this year's program. The winner of the day's events is entitled to have its class numerals painted on the class rock which was placed in front of the college many years ago. These numerals will remain on the stone until Thanksgiving time.

C. J. Frederici of Fond du Lac, division engineer of the Northwestern Railway company, was in Appleton Wednesday on business.

room for such things according to Alderman C. D. Thompson.

The committee came almost to the point of taking a vote on the purchase, but changed its decision and adopted a motion to defer action. This was done when the Fourth ward aldermen expressed a desire to call a massmeeting of their constituents and learn where they preferred to have the park located.

REJECT PETITION FOR PARK DRIVE

Council Sustains Contention Of Committee In Alicia Park Matter

The common council's rejection of a petition for the opening of a street in block 92 from Pine-st to Cedar-st to provide for a new entrance to Alicia park throws the proposition back to the property owners petitioning for the street.

The street and bridge committee reported that no such north and south street should be opened unless arrangements could be made to open also an east and west street cutting through the block from Mason-st to Outgame-st.

A street from Pine-st to Cedar-st would be 1,000 feet or a quarter of a mile long, which is considered too long a block. There is a sentiment, however, for a winding drive leading from Pierce park to the center of block 92 that would intersect the street petitioned for. There is also much talk of extending the river road north from Alicia park, as a part of long river boulevard from the south west to the southeast part of the city.

Man 74 Years Old Is "Rejuvenated" In 3 Weeks Without Gland Operation

Kansas Contractor Tells Of Wonderful Results Obtained In Test of New Scientific Discovery.

Thomas J. Glascock, 74, well-known Kansas contractor, declares he has virtually been made young again by the recently discovered korex compound, which is pronounced superior to "gland treatments" as an invigorator and revitalizer.

"I feel like I did at 35," says Mr. Glascock, "and seem to be getting stronger every day. During my three weeks' use of the new discovery, pains and weaknesses of many years' standing disappeared almost magically. Today I am as vigorous and supple as I was in the prime of life. Furthermore, when I began using the compound, my memory was virtually gone and I was almost blind. Now my mind is clear and active and I can read the finest print without difficulty."

In order to find out whether the results were lasting, Mr. Glascock waited six months before reporting on his test of the discovery. On this point he says:

"Every passing day strengthens my conviction that my restoration is not only complete but permanent. I can't express the happiness this great discovery has brought to me. It has made me 'young' again."

Similar reports are being made almost daily. For instance, D. W. Wood of New Orleans, past 60 years of age, says: "The compound has brought me back to as good, healthy physical condition as I enjoyed at 35. I am apparently as supple as at 25 and my eyesight is better than for years. I would not take $5,000 for what the discovery has done for me."

The compound is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless, yet rated as the quickest and most powerful invigorator known. Acting directly on lower spinal nerve centers and certain glands and blood vessels, it often brings amazing benefits in 24 to 36 hours, according to thousands who have tested it.

"It is wonderful," writes a resident of Hollister, Cal. "In less than 24 hours you can feel it does the work. It makes one feel young as a young man. I am more than happy and glad I tried it." Another Californian says: "The compound is a world's wonder. I feel like I was about 25 and here I am nearly fifty!"

The compound has been tested in all parts of the country and has won the praises of thousands who suffered from nerve weakness, lost or depleted vigor, neurasthenia, premature age, impaired glandular activity and lack of animation and vital force. Its effects seem to be virtually the same on both young and old. Physicians say the principal active ingredient of the compound gives speedy satisfaction in obstinate cases that defy all other treatments. Elderly people pronounce the discovery a real "fountain of youth."

Realizing that thousands of enfeebled, half-alive folk may consider such news "too good to be true," the American distributors have agreed to supply a double-strength treatment of the discovery on a guaranteed trial basis to everyone in need of such a preparation. If you wish to test the compound under a money-back guarantee, write in strict confidence to the Melton Laboratories, 3083 Melton Building, Kansas City, Mo., for a two-dollar treatment of korex compound, mailed in a plain, sealed wrapper. You may enclose two dollars, or simply send your name, without money, and pay two dollars and postage on delivery, as you prefer. In either case, however, if you report within ten days that you are not satisfied, the laboratories will refund the purchase price upon request. These laboratories are nationally known and thoroughly reliable, so nobody need hesitate about accepting their guaranteed offer.

ARTERIAL SIGNS
PARTIALLY PUT UP
HEEDED BY AUTOIST

Oneida And Rankin-sts Thus Equipped By City Crew
Thus Far

Arterial highway signs, although only partially installed, are already commanding attention. The first signs were erected on Oneida-st, others were placed on Rankin-st. It is expected that the entire work will be completed this week.

Signs are placed on the right from both sides of the street intersection. They are very conspicuous, with their white letters painted on bright red background. They are octagonal in shape, and the letters are sunk in the metal to insure durability. The letters also are painted with luminous paint, which makes them especially conspicuous at night.

Motorists are already observing the signals and are stopping before crossing an arterial highway. One auto mobilist who was unused to stopping at Oneida-st saw the arterial highway sign just in time and brought his car to a stop so suddenly that it skidded several feet.

Signs will be placed on the following streets: College-ave., Oneida-st., North-st., Rankin-st., Pearl-st.

POLICE TO CHECK
UP DOGS AT HOMES

A house-to-house canvass by members of the Appleton police force to ascertain dog statistics has been ordered by Chief George T. Prim. The law requires that in cities of the first, second and third class, the work of listing the dogs and dog kennels be done by the police under the supervision of the chief.

A check is made of all unlicensed dogs and fees are collected on unpaid licenses. The fees so collected are paid to the city treasurer and by him credited to the police pension fund. Licenses are required for all dogs six months old or over on Jan. 1. Any one who harbors a stray dog is responsible for the payment of the dog tax for that animal.

RAILROADS USING
NEW FREIGHT CARS

Railway companies have confidence in the return of prosperity as is evidenced by the large amount of new equipment that is being placed in service.

The Northwestern Railway company is replacing all its dilapidated box cars and gondola cars with new ones, many of which are daily passing through Appleton, and is calling on patrons through local agents to hasten the unloading of cars so that those in condition can be used for hauling grain in the western states.

The amount of freight handled this summer has exceeded all previous records and there is every indication the amount will increase with the approach of winter. The most important problem with the railroad companies is to get enough rolling stock to handle the business.

NORTHEASTERN TEACHERS TO CONVENE IN OSHKOSH

Word has been received by Appleton teachers that the 1923 annual convention of the Northeastern Teachers association will take place at Oshkosh Oct. 11 and 12. Most of the local teachers will attend and it is possible that some of the schools will close for a part of the sessions.

JOIN THE TREE ARMY NOW

The three-planting army will have thousands of new recruits this fall who will plant a tree and celebrate the centennial of Arbor Day in 1972. Will you be on the national honor roll? Plan your planting now.

The location or situation of the tree may determine its selection as well as soil and climate. If there is small space which may be devoted to the future development of the tree, it would not be satisfactory to plant one which will attain huge proportions, and vice versa.

The planter should study other trees already growing in his immediate neighborhood, says a bulletin of the American Tree association of Washington, D. C., which will be sent you for a two-cent stamp for postage. In sections where the surrounding woodlands offer countless young evergreens and saplings at no more trouble than the digging, it has been customary for tree planters to go to nearby wood lots to obtain the stock.

The two normal seasons for planting deciduous trees are spring and fall. The advocates of either season have many arguments to advance for the success of their operations, but as a rule it is safe to say that all trees except the evergreen may be planted at any time during the dormant period when it is possible to work the soil, i. e., when not frozen. This period begins with the dropping of the foliage in the autumn and ends when the buds burst open in the spring. Evergreens are usually planted in late spring and during the latter part of August and the first part of September. If large balls of earth are secured intact around the roots, evergreens may be planted successfully at times earlier and later than the above seasons.

The day to select, where this is possible, is a cool, cloudy one. On other days greater care must be devoted to the details of planting to prevent the drying out of the roots through the necessary handling of the plants. The size and shape of the excavation for the individual trees should be sufficient to receive the roots of the tree extended in their natural positions.

The depth of the hole should be more than enough to receive the roots in the same manner. There should be space for a layer of six inches of good loam before the roots are placed in the hole. Then, when the "top soil" is carefully worked among the fine roots, the tree should be three inches lower than it was in its nursery or woodland situation.

In working the soil around the roots no air spaces should be left when the tree is finally planted. In other words, the soil should be firmly and carefully packed with the pointed stick and the tamper so that the tree cannot be shaken from its position. An excellent way to get the soil properly around and among the roots is to soak the soil in the excavation.

Trees in situations exposed to strong winds, and always along streets, should be staked with a strong pole reaching up to their first branches when the pole is driven into the soil two feet in depth. In addition to the stake, street trees need some sort of a guard.

THE PLATFORM OF BIG BUSINESS

Bankers and business men of national prominence, under the leadership of Julius H. Barnes, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, have submitted to President Coolidge a national-policy program, which is, substantially the platform of big business. Principally, they seek a revision of the tax laws, with reduction in the supertaxes, and, secondarily, they request the government to meddle as little as possible with business.

Business cannot object to reasonable taxes which have the effect of diminishing profits, provided the decrease is not excessive. On the other hand, business can consistently object to inequitable taxation, which attracts capital from productive enterprise and ethic induced investment in non-productive securities or stimulates speculation.

The committee asks for a separate board, other than the tariff commission, to administer the flexible tariff. The presumption is that the commission would be an investigating and reporting organization, while the tariff board would fix duties. Furthermore, the business men of the country should take upon themselves the responsibility of securing a reduction in the present excessively high tariff acts. The schedule should be reduced, with the flexible feature preserved, so that duties may be made as low as our commercial and industrial situation may advise. There is hardly any danger that duties will not be high enough.

Finally, if American business is to inaugurate a program that is to receive wide approval, it must include planks that are a genuine challenge to profiteering, speculation, monopolistic control of marketing and the squeezing of the farmers for the benefit of intermediaries whose function in our economic system is altogether subordinate to that of the producer.

HUNTING WITH AUTOS

The automobile is the greatest peril against which the wild life of all continents is forced to contend. It is so terrible a danger that unless hunting by auto is brought under legal restraint it will within a comparatively few years practically exterminate most of the birds and mammals.

This is the statement of Dr. William Hornaday, director of the New York zoological garden and probably the foremost American authority on wild life. In the current number of the Nature Magazine Dr. Hornaday presents startling statistics of the destruction wrought by gunmen in autos, and emphasizes his sermon with photographs which the game butchers have caused to be taken of themselves and their wholesale slaughter.

We may not possess Hornaday's wide range of vision but all of us have noted the marked decrease in small game in Michigan since the rise of the automobile. Early it was necessary to pass a law prohibiting the shooting of aquatic birds from power boats. There is not much shooting of land birds direct from automobiles, but they have greatly increased the hunter's range.

In the old days when partridge, quail and squirrel were plentiful and deer by no means rare hunters had to travel by train and by horse. It was a leisurely affair and game was not pursued to death. Today there are a score of hunters where there was one then, and in the swift-moving automobiles they can by wholesale reach the most remote covert in a few hours. The resultant decrease in wild life is one of the penalties we pay for a swifter and more nearly universal form of transportation. The only remedy appears to lie in concerted action by sports-associations and in closed seasons extending over a period of years.

TODAY'S POEM

By Berton Braley

SEA-FAVER

(By a Land Lubber)

It's well known that I've often planned
To start out for some foreign strand
Across the waters smooth and blue,
To travel the thing to do,
I think an ocean trip is grand.

For when the sea is calm and bland
And on the steamer's deck the band
Is playing melodies to you,
It's swell!

However, on the other hand,
When she begins to roll, I land
Down in my berth. My face in hue
Is sickly green. I'm done, I'm through:
The ocean's fine—but I can't stand
It, swell!

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

BUT MY FRIENDS

A young woman inquiring whether it is all right to go swimming, or to keep on with her play, exercise and work, and all that sort of thing, remarks that she had an operation for appendicitis a year ago and that her doctor tells her she should do all these things but her friends say she shouldn't.

"This is a surprisingly frequent issue in the letters which come to me. The doctor instructs or advises so and so, but a friend gives different counsel. What should be done in such a quandary? The surprising part of it is that people will (presumably) pay a fee for the advice or 'instruction' of the doctor and then run home and swap it for the crutulous notions of Tom, Dick and Harry—or rather Mrs. Tom, Miss Dick and the Harry woman.

Doctors are always friends. If one doesn't feel that way about it, then one is very foolish to consult or employ doctors at all. Doctors are friends but friends are not doctors as a rule. Friends are not even friends when they play this particular role. They cause a powerful amount of misery in the world, all unintentionally.

There are too many women "practicing medicine." Not well trained, not well read in the art nor very well informed. Just "practicing" with a calm unconcern about all the knowledge or even contempt for progress in the art. Many of them wear trousers and enjoy a large and lucrative business otherwise.

The uninformed chant a harmonious chorus about the dire consequences which will befall "some day if not now" when a young woman has enough brains to flout their superstitious croakings. It would be funny, were it not taken so seriously by the uneducated classes, to contemplate the future in store for thousands of college women and others with some education below the neck who have not permitted their sex to make them morbid.

The young woman who misses opportunities to enjoy a swim or a game of tennis or basketball or a hike or a dance or any other wholesome activity merely because "neighbors" have her scared of her sex is to be pitied. She is sadly behind the times and ignorant of the fundamentals of hygiene. To look the part she is playing she ought to wear a red flannel rag around her neck and have some granny nurse rub her wrists with camphor.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Leukoderma

My sister, a healthy, vigorous young married woman, has several spots on the skin of her neck which are quite turned white or colorless, with darker rings around them, so that they stand out in contrast with her brunette skin. Can anything under the canopy be done for such a condition? We are great Brady fans at our house, and I have found your articles a real inspiration in my work as a dentist.—D. E.

Answer—Your description suggests leukoderma (sometimes called vitiligo), for which no cure is known. The disappearance of pigment from the spots is unexplained. When the areas affected are very extensive the effect is sometimes startling, particularly in dark skinned persons or in negroes. The white spots may be stained with dilute solutions of walnut juice or chrysarobin to resemble the normal skin, or painted with a calamin paint or sometimes tattooed to match the normal skin. The calamin paint referred to is prepared by mixing:
Glycerin1 dram
Zinc Oxide3 drams
Calamin3 drams
Water4 ounces
IchthyolFor tint desired
Mix the first four ingredients and then add the ichthyol drop by drop until you get the tint to match the skin, five to 20 drops being sufficient usually. This same point is useful for concealing discolorations, birthmarks and brown spots on the skin. (Copyright, National Newspaper Service.)

One of the things that the county

Marvel Of Rain
Trees Is Myth,
Science Proves

(Erdskine Lee, in The Mentor.)

The story of the rain tree crops up every year or so in the newspapers, and occasionally gains a foothold in more weighty publications—such as consular reports. There are several versions of the story, but they all agree in describing a vegetable marvel which sheds a copious supply of water from its leaves, even in the driest weather. As a rule, the writers urge the introduction of this tree in arid regions, such as our southwestern states, in order to make the desert blossom as the rose. In Australia, nurserymen have actually sold a so-called rain tree on a large scale, claiming it would help to solve the irrigation problem of that country.

Some descriptions of the tree are quite circumstantial with regard to its rain producing qualities. Thus one typical article says:

"The tree grows readily in any soil, reaching a large size, and has a luxuriant foliage, with a remarkable power of collecting and condensing atmospheric moisture. Its capacity, moreover, is increased by the usual heat of a drought. The water falls from the leaves and oozes from the trunk, and forms veritable rivers, which can be led in irrigating canals to any point desired. A single tree is estimated to average nine gallons of rain a day. Making liberal allowance for evaporation, a square-mile grove of the trees would supply for distribution about 100,000 gallons of water daily."

"What is the truth about this alleged marvel?"

The name "rain tree" has been given to a beautiful and very common tree of tropical America. The name is probably due to the fact that the tree has the habit of closing its leaflets before and during rains, and not to any tendency to shed water from the leaves.

In humid tropical jungles, especially at night, many trees and other plants draw-up from the soil more water than can be evaporated at the surface of the leaves and branches. Hence some of it collects in liquid form and trickles to the ground. In a dry climate this never happens, because all the moisture pumped up from the soil passes off as vapor into the thirsty air.

Some rain-tree stories undoubtedly owe their origin to the activities of plant lice, scale insects, and the like, which occasionally produce veritable showers of "honeydew" beneath the trees on which they assemble. This curious process may sometimes be witnessed beneath the shade trees of our American city streets.

The original rain-tree story, as found in the narratives of early voyagers back as far as the fifteenth century, located the tree in the island of Ferro, one of the Canaries. This island has no springs, and a scanty rainfall, but, according to the story, derived an ample supply of fresh water from a single tree. The accompanying picture, adapted from one published in 1748, shows the rain tree in full operation.

The rain tree of the island of Ferro is not necessarily mythical. The island is mountainous, rising in the interior to a height of nearly 5,000 feet. According to a recent article by Dr. G. V. Perez, the uplands are frequently enveloped in drifting clouds, which deposit a great deal of their moisture on the trees and other vegetation. This moisture drips to the ground in a steady stream. The natives say

Next to your family your head is the best friend you have in the world

The man who gets ahead—uses his head and uses it right.

He buys it a haircut once a week—a tonic once in a while—and a new Fall Soft Hat every September.

This is the month—and this is the stock that contains the hats that are going to contain the smartest heads in Appleton.

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederick J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Q. Can a postmaster charge 20 cents for registering a letter? I. W. K.

A. The Post Office Department says that on April 1st, 1923, the registry fee was raised 10 cents making this fee 20 cents. By this extension an indemnity may be claimed not exceeding $100. Before this new ruling was put into effect the amount of indemnity claimed for lost registered letters was $50.00.

Q. Why do geysers erupt? H. R. C.

A. The investigations of Bunsen in the geyser region of Iceland, have been generally accepted by geologists as an explanation of the origin and activity of geysers. By seepage from the surface the geyser tube is filled with a column of water, which at a considerable depth receives heat from buried lava flows or other volcanic sources. When the temperature in the lower part of the tube is raised to such a point that the water boils in spite of the column above, a portion of the water is changed into steam and by expansion causes an overflow at the surface. Thus relieved of pressure, a large quantity of water flashes into steam and ejects the whole column violently into the air. If the circulation of the waters be impeded by throwing stones into the geyser tube, the eruption can often be hastened. Geysers in many cases were originally hot springs, from which they have gradually developed by building and extending their tubes.

Q. What was the scheme whereby General Grant was swindled out of his money? G. W. K.

A. General Grant became the silent partner of the banking firm, of Grant & Ward. His son, Frederick, and Ferdinand Ward were the active partners. Through the dishonesty of Ward, the Grant family was bankrupt. Ward's will dominated the firm. He absorbed most of the capital and traded in imaginary Government contracts, which he represented as having been secured through the influence of General Grant.

Q. In playing Auction Bridge has the player who is taking in the tricks a right to look at a trick that has been found face down? M. E. C.

A. None of the players has a right to look at a trick that has been quitted. The Laws of Auction forbid this and provide a penalty of 25 points for each and every such offense, to be scored in the adversaries' honor column.

Q. Why are there no proper names in the Bible beginning with "W"? A. L. C.

A. Dr. Shapiro in the Library of Congress says that there is no letter in the Hebrew alphabet corresponding in sound with the letter "W" which accounts for the fact that no proper names in the Bible are translated as commencing with the letter "W".

Q. Has Great Britain made expenses in its administration of Palestine? H. B. V.

A. For the fiscal year ending April 1923, the British Administration of Palestine incurred a deficit of about $350,000.

Q. Is there any machine that will detect the presence of people if they are absolutely quiet? A. H. G.

A. A wartime instrument credited to American ingenuity would, it is claimed, register heat radiations from a man 200 yards away. There is also said to be another instrument that will detect the heat from an ordinary candle at a distance of two miles.

RUNS BANK FOR LOVE OF WORK

Clarksville, Tenn. — Mrs. Frank J. Runyon, president and founder of the First Woman's Bank, this city, stands alone as a woman in the world of business.

Wife of a prominent physician, she does not have "to work."

During the war, as a Red Cross official, she showed amazing administrative skill. A bank official, friend of the family, suggested, after the war, she employ this ability to make money for herself.

"But how?" she asked.

"Start a bank," he replied.

"Start a bank?" she replied.

She selected nine women directors and a cashier, pledged them to secrecy, and then journeyed to a small town nearby to learn the banking business.

Finally the day came to open the bank. Fifteen thousand dollars worth of stock had been sold. Deposits for the first day amounted to $20,000.

Since then—this all happened in October, 1912—dividends have been declared semi-annually with clock-like regularity. Daily statements now range about $110,000 with between 600 and 700 depositors.

HELP FOR GIRLS WHO WORK

Mrs. Lodic Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Tyrone, Pa.—"A friend told my husband how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped his wife, so my husband bought me a bottle because I was so run-down, had a nervous weakness, no strength in my body and pains in my left side so bad that I could hardly do my work. Before I was married I used to work in the factory, and I had pains just the same then as I have had since I have done my housework. I would not be without a bottle in the house now. It has stopped the pains all right and I have found out that it is a wonderful body builder, as it has made me well and strong. It is going to be the 'old reliable' with me hereafter, and I am always willing to tell other women how it has helped me. You can use this letter as you wish as I can honestly say that my words are true."—Mrs. M. Lodic, R.F.D. No. 4, Box 40, Tyrone, Pa.

Later like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The class was organized by the recreation department to give to the business women the opportunity to get together and discuss the problems which they meet in their business relations. The members will determine what line they wish to follow and each will be able to make suggestions for the topics to be considered at the meetings.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY SET BY BLAINE TUESDAY, OCT. 9

Calls On State To Concentrate Thought On Elimination Of Casualties

Madison—Governor Blaine has proclaimed Tuesday, Oct. 9, as Fire and Accident Prevention day throughout Wisconsin, urging that people give at least one day of sober concentration through to this problem of waste and its economic results.

The governor's proclamation, which follows, points out that the annual fire toll for Wisconsin amounts to nearly $10,000,000 and from 75 to 100 lives.

"Fire respects neither man, thing or place," the proclamation said. "It is an enemy which never sleeps. It destroys the resources of field and forest, the products of human labor, the palace and cottage, the shop and factory, it robs labor of employment, it lays waste cities and country. It calls for thousands of human victims each year, mostly women and children. It always wastes and never creates, save smoke and ashes."

"Nearly ten million in property and seventy-five to one hundred human lives in the annual toll Wisconsin pays to the fire fiend. Neither lives nor property can be brought back by the payment of insurance. Fire is a constant drain upon our resources. It raises costs, and places a heavy tax upon individuals, municipalities and the state."

"Most fires are preventable, so this sacrifice of life, limb and property becomes especially lamentable. It is meet and proper that we give at least one day of sober concentration through to this problem of waste and its economic results."

"For these reasons, I John J. Blaine, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby designate and proclaim Tuesday, the Ninth Day of October, 1935, as Fire and Accident Prevention Day."

DECLINED THRONE TO BECOME FARMER

Arkansas Man Was Chosen
Ruler Of Filipino Tribe—
Likes America Better

By Associated Press
Washington, Ark.—The independent life of an American farmer is to be preferred to the pomp and ceremony that surrounds a throne in the Philippines, according to Charles Haffke, owner of the Grand View plantation, near here. And he ought to know.

From messenger boy to king descriptors, in brief, the career of Haffke, one of the few Americans who ever occupied a throne.

He was elected absolute ruler of the Guardia de Honor, a tribe of 28,000 natives, by 128 native chiefs of the tribe, and held kingly sway two years.

Then he was red to America by the intrigue of Don Cupid. Mrs. Haffke had no ambition to reign as a queen and Haffke abdicated to become again a private citizen.

JOINS NAVY
Don Carlos Haffke, as he was called by his subjects, was born in Germany but came to the United States with his parents at an early age. He was a messenger boy in Omaha, later enlisted in the navy and was at the battle of Manila Bay.

After his enlistment had expired, Haffke was stationed at Lingayen in the province of Pangasinan as an employee of the Department of Justice. He obtained the release of five chiefs of the Guardia de Honor from prison and these chiefs expressed their gratitude later by urging his election as king of the tribe.

LEGAL AGENT, TOO
A "pow-wow" of chiefs was held at Natividad and a contract was drawn up and signed by the chiefs. Haffke was to become absolute ruler and was to receive one-twentieth of the proceeds of the land. The subjects were to provide his "castle" and staff of servants. How's that?

The king ruled two years in this interior province 50 miles from any other white man. He was business and legal agent for the tribe, as well as sole arbiter of all disputes.

Haffke is of the industrious, religious turn of mind, which gave the tribe confidence in his opinion.

And now he promises to be a king of another sort. He's drilling for oil on his land—and if he strikes it, well, two kingships in one lifetime ought to satisfy anyone.

CURB GAS STATIONS ARE BARRED IN FOND DU LAC

Curb gasoline filling stations in Fond du Lac must go, it was ruled in a decision by Judge C. A. Fowler in circuit court when he vacated a temporary restraining order issued by him to the Ford and Hamerik motor companies several weeks ago.

This injunction was granted when the city commission passed a resolution to have all curb pumps removed in accordance with a city ordinance adopted earlier in the summer.

Auto Runs Amuck
In avoiding a collision with another car in front of Laabs & Shepherd's office on College-ave Tuesday an unidentified driver turned his automobile sharply toward the curbing and before he could stop it mounted the sidewalk and struck the building. The fact it had no bumper was all that saved the plate glass window.

All Eight Coming Back

People who have begun to wish the days would move faster so Thursday, Sept. 27, would arrive here more quickly. That is the time set for the appearance of the men pictured above, the Eight Victor Artists. They will come here for the third successive year to present a program at Lawrence Memorial chapel under auspices of William H. Nolan, local Victor dealer.

Those who have learned to cherish these entertainers are glad to know that no change has been made in the personnel of the group. Henry Burr, Albert Campbell, John Meyer and Frank Croton, the popular singers who comprise the Peerless quartet and the Sterling trio, will again be on hand to render the latest selections in solo and concerted form. Billy Murray will again entertain with the newest popular comedy songs, and Monroe Silver will tell an entirely new set of amusing stories. The instrumental section will again be handled by Rudy Weddelt, the noted saxophonist, and Frank Banta, pianist. A complete new program has been promised, and it looks like a gala evening of melody, song and laughter.

Boston Woman Tells Of Appleton Back In 1868

Reminiscences of Appleton in its early days are expressed in a letter of Mrs. Evelyn Mudgett Severance of Boston to Postmaster William H. Zuelke. The letter was in acknowledgment of a letter stating that two historical books donated by her would be presented to Lawrence college and Appleton Public library.

"I well remember our advent into Appleton, about 2 A. M. in September, 1868," she writes, "a disagreeable rainy night—met by Mr. Dane, son-in-law of Mr. Spaulding. No street lights—narrow board plank to stumble over—our light the shifting light of a lantern, carried by Mr. Dane.

The next morning at 4 o'clock we were awakened by a bright light through our window. We were at Waverly house. The house opposite the hotel was afire. It belonged to Reader Smith. The crude fire apparatus was handled only by men, and it seemed to us that the crowd that gathered simply stood and let the house burn."

"The clipping from the Appleton Post-Crescent reminds me the last I knew of the Appleton Crescent. It was edited by your Sam Ryan, one of my school mates, and nephew of Sam Ryan, previous editor. Also the Appleton Post, by George Miller, successor to Mr. Reid."

"It was in 1879 I accompanied my mother's remains from Boston that she might rest beside my father in Riverside. I was with the Douglas family for three months. . . . It was in the year 1890 I was last in Appleton. My sister, Mrs. Dickinson, now of California, has been there several times since."

"In sorting over old letters, I came across a small picture of the old Congregational church, the little old brown church. I was so sorry to learn it has been destroyed by fire. The newer church on the site of the Smith house, while an edifice of beauty, had not the interest for me as the little old brown church."

"Many buildings have been added to the old College, which of course means progress. But I love that old building. Dr. Steele was president at that time and I was fond of him."

GROWS LARGE TURNIPS ON ONEIDA-CO FARM

Turnips grow large in Oneida-co judging by those brought home from that part of the state by Fred Lutz of Appleton. One of them weighs nine pounds. Mr. Lutz has a farm near Monico, ten acres of which he cleared early this summer and sowed with grass seed. The turnip seed was placed in the grass seed and was distributed over the new soil without any plowing having been done. The land was full of roots and stumps. Both varieties of seed caught and the owner of the land has a good crop of hay as well as an excellent crop of turnips. The seed was sown about the middle of June.

RUTH SANDBORN WILL TEACH AT LAWRENCE

Miss Ruth Sandborn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Sandborn, has accepted a position in the history department of Lawrence college. Miss Sandborn has been doing graduate work in history at Northwestern university and eastern universities for three years. She will have some of the classes which, Dr. A. A. Trever taught.

Largo Tree Must Go

A maple tree at the southeast corner of Lawrence and Appleton-sts which has been bare of foliage for a year due to the encroachment of traffic, cement walk and pavement, is being removed. The tree was a particularly handsome one in its day and was admired by all passing that way particularly in the fall when its leaves had donned their autumnal tints.

FARMERS TO DRAIN 800-ACRE TRACT

Anthony Tomasun, Fond du Lac, who has just completed a contract for excavating for water mains in the city of Appleton, has the contract for a large drainage project in Brown-co. M. Schneider, Appleton drainage engineer, is engineer for the drainage board.

Farmers of the town of Lawrence, Brown-co, will drain about 800 acres of marsh with drain tile. Several miles of drain tile will be used and the work will require 15-inch tile to be laid 10 to 12 feet deep. Construction will commence this week and be completed by Nov. 15. The work is being done under the direction of the Brown-co farm drainage board.

MILLION NOW LOANABLE FROM STATE FIRE FUND

Madison—There is $1,000,000 in the state fire fund and the state life fund to be loaned to the people of the state on long time improved farm loans or municipal bonds according to W. Stanley Smith. By dealing directly with the department broker's commissions and much legal and printing expense is saved. Commissioner Smith stated: "The state fire fund insures all state county, city, village and school district property at rates 25 per cent below these of stock companies; according to Commissioner Smith. The state life fund is a state insurance agency operated by the state to insure the lives of its citizens. Its rates are low because no commissions are paid to agents. One thousand dollars is now the biggest life policy that is issued by the state but with 500 policies the state will write policies for $2,000 as soon as it has reached 1,000."

BIG ULCER ALL HEALED

"Now I Can Walk," Says
Mrs. Southcott

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson. "One that I would rather have than a thousand dollars."

"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big-hearted, rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy with such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment."

"Read this letter by Mrs. Albert Southcott. It seems like a miracle, but it is true, every word of it. 'I know it because I get similar letters almost every day from people who have used my ointment for old sores, eczema and piles.'

"Is it any wonder I am happy?" Peterson Ointment Co.
Dear Sirs:
"I was an untold sufferer from an old running sore and ulcer. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just nine dollars worth of the salve I am cured. The ulcer was 9 inches by 6½ inches, is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's ointment."

"You may use this to recommend your ointment if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it." Your truly, Mrs. Albert Southcott, Lyndonville, N. Y. Price, 35c.

STATE ENFORCING BREAD WEIGHT LAW

Beloit Baker Is Fined $25. For Violating Rule As To Size Of Loaf

By Associated Press
Madison—The Wisconsin law requiring bakers to bake uniform loaves of bread, is being vigorously enforced throughout the state, J. Q. Emery, dairy and food commissioner, announces. He said that his deputies in the field are prosecuting wherever violations are discovered.

The law provides that loaves of bread when sold must weigh either one pound, one and one-half pounds or multiples of one pound, and that no other may be baked. One baker in Beloit recently was found selling loaves of one pound and one quarter. He was tried in the municipal court and fined $25.

Other prosecutions will be pushed whenever evidence is found, Mr. Emery said.

The Isaac Walton league chapter of Fond du Lac will stock some of the small lakes in that vicinity as well as the streams near Lake Winnebago from a car of fish expected about Oct. 1. It was decided in a meeting of the chapter last week. The league opposed the open season for rabbits being earlier this year. It is said that the northern hunters wanted it earlier than usual on account of the deer season coming so near the rabbit season.

PREMIER WILLING TO VISIT VALLEY

Reply From England Indicates Lloyd George Is Favorable To Journey Here

Whether Lloyd George will be able to visit the Fox river valley cannot be determined until his advance agent has outlined his Canadian tour, according to a letter received from his secretary by Appleton Chamber of Commerce. The letter said that Mr. George would be pleased to come to Appleton and its vicinity, but that he could give no definite answer at this time.

An invitation was sent to the former British premier in English and in Welsh as well. An effort now is being made to get in touch with the United States embassy in Canada so that another invitation may be extended to Lloyd George through his advance agent who is now in Canada.

Green & Sons May Build It

Green & Sons, a contracting firm of which Charles A. Green of this city is a member, has a bid among those which were opened in Chicago Wednesday for one of the biggest waterway projects in the world, the locks pictured above to be built on the Illinois river at Lockport, Ill. The contractor will be chosen within a few days.

The first of the locks in this $20,000,000 waterway project connecting the Great Lakes with the Illinois river were built by Green & Sons between Marseilles and Alton, Ill. It was a difficult engineering and construction feat, and the completed locks cost $1,230,000. It took about two years to build them.

The Lockport locks, the second to be built, will measure 500 feet in length and 110 feet in width. They will have a capacity of 20,700,000 gallons of water.

Three or four locks are to be built on this waterway and two dams also are contemplated. All the locks are to be the same size. Work further down the river than these locks is being held up by litigation.

LACK NURSES FOR HEALTH SERVICE

State Training School Receives Many Applications For Such Women

Milwaukee — Wisconsin has more jobs for certified public health nurses than there are nurses to fill the jobs. This statement comes from the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, which conducts a health service training school for graduate nurses to prepare them for places in the field of public health work. The association has a list of at least a half dozen jobs for county or school nurses, and no applicants to fill them, according to Miss Edith Foster, director of the school.

The public health nurse, in order to be recommended by the school or by the state public health nursing bureau, must be a graduate nurse who has had special training and has been certified to do health work. About eight years ago the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, foreseeing the need of trained public health workers, opened its school to graduates and undergraduates in their last year of training in some accredited hospital. The course in this work is given three times each year, each

MORE NEW HOUSES GOING UP AT WEST END OF CITY

Ground has been broken for two additional new houses near Appleton Junction within the last few days. One is on Roger-ave nearly opposite the plant of the Scolding Locks Hairpin company and the other on Outagamie-st near the intersection of Carver-st. The latter is being erected by Gregory Schindler, who has four under construction at the corner of Outagamie-st and Rogers-ave. As soon as he has one enclosed he starts work on another and it is his intention to finish them during the winter. Several other new homes in the immediate neighborhood are nearing completion.

The field work done by the students is done in Milwaukee county under the direction of Dr. John P. Koehler of the county dispensary, and the lecture work is taken at the Health Service building, headquarters of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, in the city of Milwaukee. Among the lecturers are such well known men and women as Dr. Smiley Blanton, psychologist of the University of Wisconsin; Dr. Elizabeth Woods, state psychiatrist; Miss Mabel Camp of state department of education; Prof. J. L. Gillen, sociology department of the University of Wisconsin and medical members of the Anti-Tuberculosis association's staff.

ON THE SCREEN

"GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST"

Made doubly fascinating by the elimination of the usual scenes which have made too many Western plays more or less monotonous, Edwin Carew's picture of "The Girl of the Golden West," a First National production, began its showing at the Elgie Theatre today and was enthusiastically greeted.

As a rule, Western dramas, especially those which depict life of the gold rush days, are over-crowded with cheap, meaningless melodrama which leaves no impression upon the mind and does not really entertain. In "The Girl of the Golden West," however, Director Carew has, as he did in "Mighty Lak a Rose," brought in the strong, human touches and developed the old romance of the famous Belasco stage triumph in a way that holds one's undivided attention from the first title to the last flash.

First of all, "The Girl of the Golden West" has no Broadway cowboys, no Indians, no running gun fights and no pretense. It seems really Western, and though it carries us back to the days when grandpa was a youngster, still it is not difficult to "live" right along with the characters "on the screen."

This is a gambling story and the incidents that lead up to the time when the heroine (Sylvia Bremer) plays cards with the sheriff (Russell Simpson) for the life of the bandit who loves (J. Warren Kerrigan) and the action during the tense moments of the game are handled with the finesse of a real cinema artist. All three principal characters reach dramatic heights in enacting their difficult parts, and Rosemary Theby as Nina also merits praise for her several important bits in the production.

As he did in "Mighty Lak a Rose," Mr. Carew proves himself an artist in picking characters for "The Girl of the Golden West." Several scores of real California pioneers participate in the action of the play and many of the historic landmarks of the gold rush days are visible in the background of various scenes.

The mountain scenery is indeed refreshing and the picture runs its length without a lax moment and obviously without padding.

"The Girl of the Golden West" has long been regarded as David Belasco's outstanding stage success. The Elgie Theatre version was acclaimed a triumph. And now with the advantages of the screen, comes Mr. Carew's screen play, and if the manner in which it has been received here can be taken as a criterion, it seems destined to surpass the brilliant records of its predecessors.

PICTURE OF APPEAL TO LOVERS OF THE GREAT OUTDOORS

Dustin Farnum in "The Trail of the Axe" comes to the New Bijou theatre tomorrow and should be welcomed as he brings a favorite star after a long absence. His new picture is calculated to make an especial appeal to his admirers for it is a story of the great outdoors, the scene being the magnificent forests of northern California, and Dustin Farnum has a role in which he is given ample opportunity to display his physical prowess.

As the owner of a thriving lumber camp he works manfully to inspire his men to do their utmost in order that contracts may be filled and a prosperous season be enjoyed by all. Unless these agreements are lived up to a heavy forfeit must be paid in money.

Yet all the while Dave has the responsibility of looking after his brother Jim, a weakling whose dissolute habits are no secret from Dave. And when Betty Somers confides to Dave that she has engaged herself to his brother, he sets about with redoubled energy to put Jim on his feet for Betty's sake, and keeps his own love for her a secret.

This delicate situation, in itself only the beginning of the comedy-drama, Mr. Farnum plays with authority and charm. The contrast to make his own role a most sympathetic one, of course, but the scenes with Jim are acted in a spirit of brotherly understanding so great that by the sheer charm of the Farnum personality the several character claims what is not really his.

Moving forward in the story Dustin Farnum is again seen at his best in an episode of another kind entirely. It is the thrilling sequence following his brother's vow to be revenged because of his discharge from the saw mill and his plot to dynamite the structure. This scheme is put into effect and its consequences result in a catastrophe new to the screen.

A giant log, freed by the impact, strikes Dave, full in the chest and holds him prisoner against a wall. This is the biggest thrill in "The Trail of the Axe," and from the manner of its achievement there is doubt if it has been equalled in any other photograph. It is a splendid example of the highly perfected mechanics of motion picture production, and the heart-throb infused therein comes from the acting of Dustin Farnum in this crisis.

As he did in "Mighty Lak a Rose," Mr. Carew proves himself an artist in picking characters for "The Girl of the Golden West." Several scores of real California pioneers participate in the action of the play and many of the historic landmarks of the gold rush days are visible in the background of various scenes.

The mountain scenery is indeed refreshing and the picture runs its length without a lax moment and obviously without padding.

Highway 17 Open
Hundreds of motorists are using the newly opened concrete on state trunk highway 17 between Milwaukee and

A parade of thanksgiving, sponsored by the American Legion and Advancement association of Port Washington and the Third Street Advancement association of Milwaukee was held.

Red Crown Keeps Your Engine With You

It is never behind your whim. Answer—flexibility and a response so instantaneous as to make the machine seem part of yourself.

Flexibility comes from even vaporization at definite temperatures. Even vaporization is possible only when there is a perfect chain of boiling point fractions. The chain in Red Crown gasoline is perfect, producing a steady, unbroken flow of power.

Drive Your Own Car?

Then you'll appreciate Red Crown gasoline. You get the joy of perfect performance — instant starting — a snappy get-away — eager acceleration — sustained pulling power — racing speed if you want it — maximum mileage per gallon.

Red Crown is the year 'round gasoline — it performs with equal efficiency winter or summer — it vaporizes to the last drop. It leaves a minimum of carbon and fouled plugs. These are important features in cold weather driving.

FORMER OFFICIAL OF BURLINGTON LINE DIES

LaCrosse—Daniel Cunningham, former superintendent of the northern division of the Burlington railroad with headquarters here, died at his home after a month's illness.

REGISTRATION AT LAWRENCE WILL PASS 700-MARK

Change In Normal Schools Believed To Add Students At Colleges

More than 700 students registered at Lawrence college Tuesday and Wednesday and began their classes Thursday, while 302 students have registered at Lawrence Conservatory of Music. These figures indicate that the number of students who will attend both the college and conservatory this year will be greater than ever before. The registration at the conservatory at the end of the second day of registration last year was 265, but this number increased during the year until a total of 510 was recorded.

The freshman class at the college is unusually large this year, due in part to the fact that the normal schools are offering no college courses. Although every one of the smaller colleges in the state loses a large number of its upper classes to the University of Wisconsin and other universities, there are large groups representing each year's class registered here. Many students who have been working for a year or more have returned.

In order that all the students may meet their instructors this week, the entire program of classes was run through on Thursday. A special schedule was arranged so that each class would fit into the one-day program. Because of all college day, no classes will be held on Friday, but the regular order will begin on Monday and continue through the first quarter. For the first time in its history with the exception of the year when the S. A. T. C. was quartered here, Lawrence will be run on the quarter unit plan rather than semester plan. The first quarter will be completed before the Christmas recess.

EIGHT AT STATE POSTAL MEETING

The following delegates from the Appleton postoffice are attending the state postal conference at Madison: Postmaster William H. Zuehlke; Frank Schrimpf and Adolf Jahnske; clerks: F. J. Hardiman, R. Y. Clark, George A. Koehler and Robert Clack.

city letter carriers: George F. Grimmer, rural carrier.
Postmaster Zuehlke left Wednesday afternoon so as to be in Madison in time to attend the conference of postmasters Thursday morning. The other delegates, with the exception of Mr. Koehler, left by automobile at 3 o'clock Thursday morning. The postal conference will take place in the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Koehler left Wednesday afternoon and will be joined after the conference by Mr. and Mrs. Grimmer on a vacation trip through the southern part of the state and Illinois.

ARTERIAL LAW IS PASSED BY CITY COUNCIL

Fixes Penalties For Not Stopping Where Signs Are Shown
—Revises Peddler Law

Passage of the arterial highway ordinance submitted at a previous meeting and an amendment to an ordinance licensing peddlers and hawkers was effected at the meeting of the city council Wednesday evening.

The arterial highway ordinance, which becomes effective after passage and publication, enforces the decision of the council designating parts of six streets as arterial highways by providing a fine of not more than $25 or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed 30 days for each violation of the arterial highway regulation.

REQUIRE COMPLETE STOP
Alderman J. F. Lappen expressed the opinion that a $25 fine was too great for such an offense, but was informed that such a fine was the maximum and not the minimum. The ordinance requires every horse-drawn or motor propelled vehicle to come to a complete stop before crossing.

The arterial streets are as follows: Pearl-st., Water-st. to Lawrence-st., Lawrence-st. to Onida-st., Onida-st., Lawrence-st. to Second-ave.

College-ave., Outagamie-st. to Rankin-st.

Rankin-st., College-ave. to Pacific-st.

North-st., Onida-st. to Rankin-st.

Increase in license fees for peddlers and transient merchants is required by an amendment to ordinance No. 162.

The fee for peddlers using a horse-drawn or motor vehicle, formerly $7 a year, is changed to $12 a year.

Delivery of one horse peddling wagon pay $5 a year instead of $45 a year.

Peddlers with pushcarts pay $5 a year, instead of $30 a year, and peddlers on foot pay $3 a year instead of $20 annually.

FLEXIBLE FEE PLAN

The fee specified in each case is the maximum and may be reduced at the discretion of the city council.

Applications for licenses according to the provisions of the ordinance, must be acted upon by the council, although a committee consisting of the mayor, chief of police, and the chairman of the license committee may in emergencies direct the city clerk to issue licenses before the date of council meetings.

Farmers peddling their produce are protected by the state, and produce merchants selling to retail stores and canvassers taking orders for future delivery are not classed as peddlers, according to an explanation by C. D. Thompson, chairman of the ordinance committee.

The amendment is one proposed by the retail division of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce but somewhat revised. Mr. Thompson suggested that the city clerk and the police and license committee work out a graduated scale of license fees for the various classes of peddlers. The fees, he said, should not be more than the daily business of the peddler.

A petition for an amendment to transfer the south half of block 28, the city zoning ordinance that would Second ward, from the residential district to the commercial and light manufacturing district, was upon the motion of Alderman Thompson rejected.

Car Stolen

Theft of a Ford coupe at Marsh field Tuesday night was reported Wednesday to the Appleton police office. Local police officers have been asked to join in the search for the car and the thief. The license number of the car was 35142, but inasmuch as a license plate was stolen from another car, it is likely that this plate was placed on the stolen car. Its number is 35142.

PAY ARCHITECTS IN PART FOR WORK ON HIGH SCHOOLS

Bids Will Be Asked Next Week
For Buildings, Board Is Informed

At a special meeting of the board of education at Appleton high school Wednesday afternoon a payment of $2,300 was made to Perkins, Fellows & Hamilton of Chicago, architects of the new junior high schools. This represented the balance due on the first payment of one per cent. The total amount of the one per cent fee was $5,500.

Mr. Hamilton, one of the architects, was in Appleton Monday and with the building committee went over the plans and specifications of the new buildings, making slight alterations in the domestic science and manual training departments. While he was here arrangements were made for the calling for bids for construction work as soon as the plans and specifications arrive, which will be next week.

Members of the board of education were informed that the two new buildings were discussed at the meeting of the building committee and architect.

As the buildings are designed quite differently the question arose as to which might be the more popular. The committee was about equally divided so there is little possibility of any jealousy arising among the taxpayers after the buildings are completed.

Over the main entrance of each building is a stone on which the name of the school is to be inscribed. As yet no names have been selected. It was proposed at the meeting Wednesday that the building committee suggest names from which a selection could be made. One suggestion offered was that they call the east junior high school and west junior high school.

The deaf pupils and the defective speech pupils are to be separated this year for the first time to comply with the law and Miss Anna Sullivan of Seymour, was engaged as instructor of the latter. Miss Hannah Gardner will continue in charge of the deaf pupils. Bids for coals were called for by the committee on janitor supplies and it was announced that one dealer filed a bid of $11 and that the bids of the others were $11.50. In the event the dealers get together on the low bid a contract for five carloads will be distributed. One carload of coal already has been purchased.

The board decided to insure the high school building for $175,000 under the 90 per cent clause of insurance and the contents at $40,000. Twenty thousand dollars insurance will be carried on the boilers and $2,000 on the bar racks. The fixing of the insurance followed a lengthy discussion.

FARMERS PAID 1 1/4 CENTS A POUND FOR POTATOES

Farmers have been receiving $1.25 a hundred pounds for their potatoes in the Waupaca market for the first few days of this week, according to quotations submitted by a Dale potato shipper. The quotation for other Wisconsin points is $1.10 to $1.40 a hundred pounds. The market is inclined to be somewhat lower than previously because large shipments were made 15 days earlier than in other years.

CUTICURA HEALS HARD PIMPLES

Festered and Scaly, Itched
So Could Not Sleep.

"My face started breaking out with blackheads and pimples. The pimples were hard and red and would fester, and after they festered they became scaly and looked terrible. Some nights they would itch so I could hardly sleep. My face was badly disfigured and I was ashamed to go anywhere."

A relative advised me to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I sent for a free sample. I purchased more, and after using five cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Helen Young, 843 Holloway St., Akron, Ohio.

P. O. AGAIN LEADS IN U. S. NOTE SALES

Ranks First In Its Class In State
With $59,019 As Total
Marketed

Appleton postoffice again leads all postoffices of its class in Wisconsin for the greatest amount of United States treasury savings certificates sold. It also leads all cities of other classes except Milwaukee and Oshkosh. From Jan. 1 of this year to Sept. 1, the local postoffice sold $59,019 worth of certificates. Oshkosh in the 30,000 population class, sold $71,239 in these certificates.

This form of investment is becoming more and more popular with Appleton savers. Small savers begin by buying postal savings stamps at 10 cents each and making postal savings deposits. When one has $20.50 one can purchase the treasury saving certificate of the lowest denomination. This certificate in five years matures at $25. The interest realized is about 4 per cent. Other certificates are sold at $2 and $20, which mature at $10 and $1,000 respectively.

The certificates are redeemable at any time with 3 per cent interest; they are registered to protect the owner against loss and are exempt from state and local taxation (except estate and inheritance taxes) and from the normal federal income tax.

FAKE DIRECTORY C. OF C. TARGET

Through the industrial bulletin published for September by the Business Information Bureau of Appleton Chamber of Commerce, merchants and business men are being warned by the vigilance committee to stamp out the abuse of the solicitation of advertising for directories. The committee has found that by means of the directory advertising many fraudulent solicitors have taken much money from Appleton.

As means of stamping out the evil, the committee urges that the person from whom advertising is solicited regard with suspicion any directory whose solicitors attempt to collect in advance. The committee includes church directories. It urges that every directory proposition be thoroughly investigated before advertising space is taken and that a copy of the contract and a receipt be received for all space. Another thing which the committee thinks advisable is to ask to see a copy of the directory for which the advertising is solicited.

Soaring Price Of Pipe Leaves New Residences Without Water Service

Council Refuses To Pay High
Premium Asked For Immediate Delivery—Laabs Disapproves Treatment Given New Home Owners

New homes in the Third and Fifth wards that awaited the installation of water mains before winter sets in will not enjoy this convenience as the result of a vote of the common council at its meeting Wednesday evening to defer purchase of pipe until later because of the high price asked for immediate delivery. Permission was given the commission to proceed with installation of more filters.

Aldermen who voted against purchase were informed by Alderman August Laabs that they would have to stand the blame because a number of families would be without water until next spring. He said the people were not to blame because the laying of mains was left undone until this late date. The requests had been made three months ago, but through the hesitancy of the council and the veto of the water extension program by Mayor Henry Reuter the matter had gone too long. He also said the water commission had no business bringing this matter back to the council for action.

Mr. Laabs tried to induce the council to buy enough pipe, even at the higher price, to make the most urgent installations, but was informed that the quotations were based on a quantity order and might be even higher than the present inflated figure.

BACK TO COUNCIL
The council had authorized the water commission to install mains on several streets. It was found when quotations on pipe were obtained that the city would have to pay a premium of about $1,600 above the normal price for delivery of the material in time to make the installations before the fall freezeup came. Rather than saddle this extra cost onto the city, the commission referred the matter back to the council.

Only one company, James Clow and Sons, Chicago, offered to make immediate delivery on pipe, but asked about $7 more a ton than the other concerns according to Fred Morris, assistant secretary of the commission. Delivery of one car immediately was guaranteed, and the remainder in four weeks. The other concerns would not assure delivery under 60 to 90 days, which would be too late to do the work. The prices were based on an order for 180 tons. Purchase of one car, or about 35 tons, and representing about 2,000 feet, was spoken of, but the price would be still higher, it was explained.

Alderman James A. Wood declared that even if the order were placed at the high figure the city was taking a chance on delivery in time enough to have the work done, because delays almost always occur. He therefore declined it unless to gamble on a premium of $1,600 and find the step useless in the end. He made the motion to defer and Alderman L. O. Hanson supported it.

FOUR VOTE NO
The aldermen who voted no on this motion were those in the areas where the most building is going on. They were Aldermen Laabs and C. F. Smith of the Third ward and Charles Fose and Wenzel Hassmann of the Fifth ward. Alderman Laabs then scored the act, declaring that those who were "sitting pretty" with plenty of water available did not appreciate the situation of those who had built homes and were waiting for service.

FOND DU LAC PAVES 13 MILES IN 1923

Fond du Lac county's 1923 road construction program which includes the paving of about 13 more miles of road is nearing completion. A stretch of concrete on highway 102, approximately five miles in length, another stretch on highway 23, six miles in length, were completed last week. A trifle more than two miles of concrete work on highway 55 is all that is left on the county's 1923 program. This will be completed by Oct. 15.

ation of those who had built homes and were waiting for service. The council granted the water commission authority to build additional filters, allowing $30,000 to be expended for this purpose. About $15,000 of this amount now lies in the surplus fund of the water department. The filters are not to be installed immediately, but the authority to proceed was needed, it was said, in order that the superstructure might be built now and the added space be enclosed before winter. The filter installation then will proceed as the situation permits.

The Dutchman started, almost falling back down the steps of his own veranda. Curled in a chair, a cigarette between his lips and a half-filled tumbler resting in the cavity in the arm, lay Chinese Pennington.

"Oh! good evening! Thought I'd left you behind in Jerselton!" He blundered past Pennington, found a seat and began unlacing his boots.

"You intend stopping here?"

"If I may."

"Certainly—delighted of course. No need to offer you a drink, I see."

Two diagonal slits were all that was visible of the Englishman's eyes. "No thanks, I brought my own."

Van Daulen paused with one boot half drawn off—and stared hard at his guest.

"You brought—your—own—whiskey?"

The Dutchman choked something back in his throat and discarded the boot. He was evidently ill at ease for, while endeavoring to operate the second pair of laces, he got them hopelessly knotted.

"My boy made you pretty comfortable, I hope?" he jerked out without looking up.

"Brought my own."

Van Daulen sprang to his feet, a ludicrous figure in one riding-boot and a gray sock.

"Confound it all, Pennington: this is too much of a good thing."

"And"—added the man with the Chinese eyes—"in case I have occasion to write anything—I've taken the additional precaution of bringing a fountain pen."

The Dutchman stood for some moments, clenching and unclenching his fists, then dropped heavily back on to his seat.

"If I thought for one moment you meant to imply anything by these extraordinary branches of etiquette—I'd pitch you and your damned servant into the garden."

Pennington moved a cushion to a more comfortable position.

"I assume by that you don't intend to take any particular precautions yourself?"

The lace broke.

"Such as?"

"Keeping a close watch on the cook-house, seeing that your razor isn't tampered with, setting a reliable watch on the house at night, questioning all strangers found wandering on the estate."

"It occurs to me," retorted Van Daulen, "that if you were to leave estate affairs to those who understand them—and occupy yourself solely with the rounding-up of poor old Domborg; that won't help them much while Vane, Whitaker and yourself are alive."

Van Daulen crossed the floor in his socks and poured himself out a stiff helping of neat spirit.

"Why didn't you put up at Vance's or Whitaker's?"

"Because," said Pennington sweetly, "I had a notion Chal-Hung had selected you for his next victim. I made a most interesting discovery while you were away this afternoon. I succeeded in running to earth a pot of bright yellow paint, a tin of black enamel and two brushes."

Van Daulen spun round on his heel. "Where?" he demanded thickly.

"Buried a couple of feet down in a neatly boarded recess under your own house."

"Under—my—house?"

"Bang under the steps."

Van Daulen leant heavily on the rail.

"May I see those brushes?" he inquired suddenly.

"I'm afraid that's impossible. You see, I sent them down to Heriot by a special messenger over an hour ago. They're a finger-print expert down there—and paint's a thing that can be easily rubbed off."

There followed a long period of silence during which a little, brown-skinned scarecrow, with an ear and eye missing and a mouth slit at either side so that its owner wore a perpetual grin, emerged from the living room and hung a lighted oil lamp on a hook above the table. The Dutchman—still leaning over the wooden rail, gazing at the fall of darkness without turning his head. The servant paused on his way out, stared deliberately at Pennington, reciprocated the broad wink that he received—and disappeared.

"That stuff couldn't have got under here without somebody knowing it," said Van Daulen.

"That is my contention. Whoever was responsible for the crime had an accomplice in the house."

The other grunted.

"Appared to lie between my boy—and myself."

"So I took the liberty of arresting the boy."

"The devil you did!"

Pennington sat bolt upright.

"Look here, Van Daulen, you threw out a pretty broad hint last night concerning the supposed inactivity of the police. Within eighteen hours of hearing from you that Domborg was dead and the sign of the Yellow Seven plastered on his bungalow, I've found the implements that were employed to make that sign. The slackness was not on our side, but yours."

The Dutchman left the rail and came a couple of paces nearer.

"How d'you make that out?"

"I have known for a considerable time that Chal-Hung was in the neighborhood and for ten days your boundaries have been patrolled by my own men. During the whole of that period not a single agent of the Yellow Seven has either entered or left."

"How long do you propose staying here?"

"Until the feller I'm looking for comes to find his paint."

"You still imagine he intends using it again?"

"He'd have burnt it if he didn't."

The Dutchman forced a smile.

"Since we seem destined to be stable-companions for a considerable period we'd better make the best of it. I don't mind telling you, Pennington, that you're on the wrong track. There's not a man on the place I couldn't vouch for and the paint was probably intended for a blind."

Whittaker and Vance share a place between here and Domborg's. They're both got Chinese servants; if Chal-Hung wants free access to the coast, they're as much in his way as I am—and there's a particular fine opportunity for killing two birds with one stone. If you were in the bandit's shoes— isn't that the first thing that would occur to you?"

"I think I shall stop here in any case. If ever I happen to be in need of somebody to teach me my business, I can't do better than to associate myself with one who can see things so well—from Chal-Hung's point of view."

The dark features of the Dutchman remained immobile, but Chinese Pennington saw enough to satisfy him that the shaft had gone home.

You've placed me in a deuced awkward position," he complained presently. "Until I replace my late servant, I suppose I'm at liberty to fall back on yours?"

"Rabat-Pilai is entirely at your service."

The Dutchman picked up his riding-boots and moved off in search of his slippers.

Pennington—once more alone—smiled curiously at a huge moth that wheeled round the flame of the lamp.

Between nine and ten Van Daulen went out, taking the path to the coolie-lines. Half-an-hour later Rabat-Pilai crept on to the veranda and halted before Pennington's chair.

"Well?"

"Great Tuan, the Dutchman left the estate by the gate that faces the sea. He went some little distance into the forest to where a big tree stands alone. There was a hurricane-lamp hidden in the undergrowth. The Tuan Van Daulen lit it and held it above his head. A man stole from the shadows and joined him."

Pennington stared at the ceiling.

"What sort of man?"

"A Chinaman, Tuan. There was no word spoken between them. The stranger gave the Dutchman a little box—and went away again."

"One of Chal-Hung's men?"

"Yah, Tuan. He did not go far, because I had two of our close at hand. They will keep him for you tomorrow."

"Excellent. What happened to the Tuan Van Daulen?"

"He took the box to a hut by the railway-line. It was dark when he entered after that there was a light."

"You looked in?"

The man nodded.

FRESHMEN ELECT HARRY HOEFFEL, THEN STEAL HIM

Lawrence Sophomores Are Foiled In Unusual Plan To Abduct President

No sooner had Harry Hoefel, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Hoefel, 201 Sixth-st., been elected president of the freshman class of Lawrence, college on Wednesday afternoon than he was spirited away by his classmates and has not been seen by the sophomores since the election. Each year the sophomore class tries to steal the freshman president and keep him away from his classmates until after all college day, but the new students were too quick for them and they have hidden him away where they know he will be treated well and comfortable until the day of the big scrap.

Two other Appleton young people were elected to offices of the freshman class. Miss Catherine Pratt, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. K. Pratt was made vice president and Miss Ruth Bernhardt secretary. Other officers were: Charles Nichols, Milwaukee, treasurer; Erwin Schwab, Manitowoc, representative in the student senate; Irwin Hintz, Racine, representative on the forensic board.

Wearing of the green caps and arm bands became the official order after the meeting at which members of the All college club explained the purpose of the freshman badge and also the tradition of the rock. Other traditions of the college were explained to the group.

A special meeting was held for the girls on Thursday afternoon at which officers of the student organizations were present. House rules and customs of the college were explained to the girls in order that they might understand the rules and know about the penalties for breaking them as their college careers started in earnest.

LONE BANK ROBBER STILL AT LIBERTY

By Associated Press
Republic, Mich.—Efforts to apprehend the bandit who single handedly robbed the Republic State bank of $10,000 in cash and securities Wednesday afternoon have proved unavailing so far.

The bandit described by the cashier, John R. Thornberg, as a man about twenty five or thirty years of age, entered the bank, and exhibiting a gun, handed to the assistant cashier a bag and note instructing him to fill the bag with money. The note contained a caution against making a disturbance and stated that three men armed with rifles were outside the building.

Complying with the request the bank employees say the robber backed out of the bank and sped away in an automobile.

MRS. F. E. SAECKER DIES AT HER HOME

Mrs. Mirrie Brettrick Saecker, wife of F. E. Saecker, died Thursday morning at her home, 651 Union-st.

Mrs. Saecker was born Feb. 10, 1855 at Ellington and in 1877 was married to Mr. Saecker. They have made their home in Appleton for many years.

Mrs. Saecker is survived by her widow; one daughter, Mrs. Herman Heckert, and one brother, Albert Brettrick both of Appleton.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Riverside chapel. Dr. J. A. Holmes will be in charge.

MOTHER TAKES PLACE OF BLIND STUDENT'S EYES

Evanson, Ill.—Carl Bostrom, blind student in the college of liberal arts at Northwestern university, will take more work during the coming school term than the average student with perfect vision according to university authorities. His schedule includes English, French, geology, psychology, public speaking, European history and physical training. His mother who helped him to register and select his studies will be her son's eyes throughout his college course.

Bostrom plans to take up newspaper work after his graduation.

CLOUDS OF BLACKBIRDS DAMAGE FARMERS' CROPS

By Associated Press
Prairie du Chien—Farmers of this section are complaining because of the ravages of thousands of blackbirds which are attacking the unharvested crops. The birds are said to be of unusual size, and so numerous that damage is being done to trees in which they roost.

IT'S A LONG WALK
Tuesday when returning from Oshkosh, we passed a man walking near Gillingham's corner. He had on an old army uniform and carried a knapsack with a Washington, D. C. pennant on it. Because it was raining, we gave him a lift to Neenah where he was stopping over night and on the way he told us his story. He was hiking from Washington to his home in Marshfield. He had been on the road seven days; most of the time he received lifts from passing cars. Two of his nights had been spent in Y. M. C. A.'s three in haystacks, one in a moving van and one night, he had ridden with some tourists through the whole night. Tuesday night he expected to stay with friends in Neenah, and hoped to make Marshfield by Wednesday noon.

Cincinnati Reds Cop Doubleheader From Phillies, 1-0 And 6-5

Brooklyn And Chicago Split
Twin Bill; Cubs Lose, 5 To 1, And Win 4 To 3

Chicago—Cincinnati advanced a little more Wednesday in the National league, winning a double header from Philadelphia, 1 to 0 and 6 to 5, while the New York Giants were idle and the Pittsburgh Pirates lost to Boston, 5 to 4.

Brooklyn and Chicago split a doubleheader. The Cubs lost the first game 5 to 1, and won the second in ten innings, 4 to 3.

Detroit and Philadelphia split a doubleheader in the American league, the Tigers winning the first, 6 to 2, and dropping the second, 4 to 3.

The Boston Red Sox made two runs in the ninth inning with one out, and defeated the Chicago White Sox, 2 to 1. The game was Ehmeke's twentieth victory of the season.

Washington totally eclipsed St. Louis pounding out 11 hits and winning, 11 to 0.

An error by Shortstop Metz of the Philadelphia Nationals enabled Cincinnati to win the first game of a doubleheader which was a pitching duel between Rixey and Betts. The host was followed by a single and a sacrifice fly giving the Reds a 1 to 0 victory.

Pete Donhue was hit hard in the second game but made up for his pitching by some heavy hitting which gave him the victory. He socked out three hits including a double and a triple, driving in three runs in the fourth inning with his three bagger, and sending home the winning marker in the eighth with his two base blow.

A baseball fan attending the Chicago-Brooklyn game took exception to the decisions of Umpire Powell behind the plate, and threw an empty pop bottle at the pitcher. He was arrested by the police who are on the lookout to prevent a repetition of the bottle throwing which marred Sunday's game between the New York Giants and Chicago, in which Barney Friberg, Cub's third baseman was hit on the shoulder by one of the missiles.

The Boston Braves knocked Babe Adams off the hill in the first inning and defeated Pittsburgh, 5-4. Red Russell poked a bagger for the Pirates but there was no one on at the time.

Mogridge pitched great ball in the pinches while St. Louis gave Davis poor support which enabled Washington to register a shutout, 11 to 0.

Sylvester Johnson, star twirler of the Detroit Americans had to retire from the game because of a strained arm after pitching 6 2-3 innings and allowing only one hit in the first game.

Denny Burns, a recruit pitcher from the Shreveport team of the Texas league, pitched a great game for Philadelphia against Detroit in the second game.

Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Americans was elected to honorary membership in the Hillsboro Rotary club of Hillsboro, Tex. Speaker is a native of that city and accepted the honor.

Officials of the Chicago teams of the National and American leagues will meet before Commissioner Landis Thursday to arrange for the series which is to decide the city championship. The Nationals won last fall, the first time they had defeated their rivals in thirteen years.

PRAIRIE CHICKEN SEASON NOW OPEN

Thursday was another important day for hunters as it opened the season for prairie chickens and grouse. When the sun arose that morning another contingent of hunters was ready with guns for this game bird which is considerably more scarce than the wild ducks. The season lasts only five days. The daily bag limit is five.

There is no open season in the following counties: Lafayette, Green, Rock, Walworth, Racine, Kenosha, Milwaukee, Waukesha, Jefferson, Dane, Iowa, Crawford, Richland, Sauk, Washington, Ozaukee, Vernon, La Crosse, Monroe, Fond du Lac, Manitowish, Winnebago, Calumet, Portage, Waupaca, Oneida, Lincoln, Polk, Barron, and Dunn.

FIRPO SATISFIED WITH DECISION OF REFEREE ON BOUT

Argentine Asks Nothing More Than Return Bout With World's Champion

New York—The decision of the referee is sufficient for Luis Angel Firpo, despite the protests of his friends and many spectators of his fight with Jack Dempsey, that he was unfairly treated and fouled. He asks nothing more than another match with the world's champion.

CHAMP DISREGARDS RULES

Dempsey was declared by thousands of spectators not only to have struck Firpo viciously after the call of time and to have disregarded the referee's instructions as to retreating to a neutral corner during a knockdown count, but to have technically lost the fight on a foul when he was assisted back to the ring by reporters, after having been knocked through the ropes by Firpo in the first round, before Galtagher also is declared to have neglected starting count until Dempsey had been returned to the ring.

Chairman Muldoon said after the fight that had Firpo's seconds claimed a foul when Dempsey was pushed back into the ring, the state boxing commission would have recognized the claim and declared Firpo the winner. No such claim was made at the time.

Firpo has been urged by his South American admirers and many others to protest against the decision of Referee Galtagher. His statement made to the Associated Press on Wednesday reads:

DEFENDS HIS TRAINER

"There has been enough discussion on the question of fouls in my match with Jack Dempsey. The charges against Horatio Lavalie are unjust, because Mr. Muldoon, chairman of the New York state boxing commission, assured us that justice would be done for me.

"I have read what Mr. Muldoon has said on the subject of fouls and I appreciate it. I have also read my references by sporting writers to the same matter. But notwithstanding this, I want to make one thing perfectly clear: I accept the decision and all I want is another match with Dempsey as soon as my arm is all right and I have had sufficient rest."

Puzzling Plays

THE PLAY

There are runners on first and second and no one out. The batsman hits a high fly, which the umpire is of the opinion can be handled by an infielder. The moment the umpire arrived at such a decision he declared it an infield fly, which automatically retired the batsman.

A high wind that is blowing carries the ball out a greater distance than the umpire had anticipated. The shortstop gets in a position to make a play on the ball, but the left fielder, believing the shortstop won't be able to make the catch, decides to handle the ball and keeps yelling that he will take it.

The shortstop, although in a good position to make a play on the ball, in order to avoid a collision, decides to allow the left fielder to catch the ball. The left fielder muffs it and then makes a bad throw to the plate, the two runners on the bases scoring and the batsman reaching second.

What about the play? The team at bat contends that when the outfielder landed the ball it removed the call of infield fly on the part of the umpire.

THE INTERPRETATION

No consideration can be given the fact that outfielder ultimately hit the ball. The moment the umpire ruled it an infield fly, it became an infield fly, regardless of the fact that the outfielder made the play on the ball. The batsman who ran to second should have been removed from the base, as he was automatically out the moment the umpire ruled the hit an infield fly. The two runs that scored were perfectly legal.

Chicago—A drive to stamp out pop bottle throwing at ball games was launched with the arrest of a man charged with throwing a bottle at an umpire who made a close decision.

ORDERS FOR FIRST MADISON FOOTBALL CONTEST POURING IN

Estimated Capacity Of Enlarged Bowl At Randall Field Is 36,000

Madison—Applications for tickets to the annual homecoming football game here Oct. 27 are being received by the hundreds. Despite the fact that the time of the game is more than a month distant, a special staff of student clerks is at work filling the applications in the order in which they are received.

The mail order seat sale will close Oct. 5, and it will not be possible for anyone to obtain tickets after that date unless there are some seats unsold. Mail orders will be received, however, and filed in order until all the tickets are disposed of. Any unfilled orders will be returned to the applicants together with the money enclosed for tickets.

Officials in charge of the sale urge all Wisconsin alumni and others who intend to come to Madison for the game to mail their applications for tickets immediately. No guarantee is made that orders received at the last minute will be filled, but every effort will be made to supply applicants with tickets.

The stadium at Randall field has been enlarged during the summer months, and it is estimated that 36,000 persons can be seated in the bowl this season. This is an increase of 8,000 over last year.

There will be only two regular conference games on the home field this fall. Minnesota will expose the Cardinals for the homecoming fray, and Michigan will play here Nov. 17.

KIMBERLY-CLARKS JUSTIFY CLAIM TO FACTORY PENNANT

League Ruling Says Games Played After Sept. 1 Have No Effect On Standings

Kimberly-Clark is considerably riled up over the dispute concerning the championship of the Inter-Factory baseball league. The controversy started when Kimberly protested a game on the grounds that the Combined Locks aggregation used more professionals than were allowed in the rules agreed upon by the executive committee and the managers of the industrial clubs. Thereafter the game was ruled out, and played over, with both clubs playing in strict compliance with the rules. It was fortunate for the Locksmen that these rules prohibited the use of most of their best players who are also members of the Appleton State league club, and therefore ineligible to play with Inter-Factories, but as they had agreed to the rules at the beginning of the season, it looks as though they have no kick coming, and, as the Kimberly tribe defeated their neighbors twice during the present season and are now leading the league by one game, their claim to the pennant seems justified.

According to the league ruling, any postponed games played after Sept. 1, the end of the Factory schedule, can have no bearing on the standing of two teams and therefore the two contests which Kimberly still played off between Kimberly-Clark and Fox River, and Combined Locks and Cellucotton will have no effect on the present standings.

How long has it been since a champion has repeated in the national open of the United States?

J. J. McDermott was the last player to win the United States open twice in succession. McDermott died in first place in 1910 with Aleck Smith and in 1911 with Aleck Smith and George Simpson with a score of 228. In the playoff Smith captured the title with a 71 to 75 for McDermott and 77 for Smith. In 1911 McDermott again finished in a triple tie with Mike Brady and George Simpson with a score of 337. This time McDermott won the championship play-off with an 80, to 82 for Brady and 86 for Simpson. In 1912 he repeated, winning the title with a score of 224. Tom McNamee was second with 226. This achievement on the part of McDermott is one of the biggest things in golf.

What is the difference in deciding a tie in the national open and the national amateur?

In the national open when two or more players are tied for the first hole, they play 18 holes, the player turning in the lowest score being declared champion. In amateur play if it is all even at the finish the players continue to play extra holes until one of the players gains an advantage.

In medal play, on reaching the green, a finds that his ball is a trifle farther from the cup than B's. The position of B's ball is such that he feels that it will handicap his next shot. Has A, who must play first, the right to ask B to lift his ball?

A has a perfect right to ask B, who is nearer the hole, to lift his ball while A is playing his next shot. If B prefers to play his shot after being requested to lift his ball, he is within his rights.

Is it permissible to have your caddy stand at the hole to mark your line of putt, the condition of the green making you feel that it will be easier to play your next shot after having the line of putt definitely marked? Is there a penalty if the ball strikes your caddy, who is standing at the hole?

A player has a right to have his caddy stand at the hole to mark the line of putt. In match play if the person at the hole is struck by the ball, the player loses the hole, while in medal play he is penalized two strokes.

JONES ELIMINATED IN SECOND ROUND OF NATIONAL AMATEUR

Sweetser, Gardner And Ouimet Survive After Wednesday's Play

Chicago—Two former national amateur titleholders and the national open champion, Bobby Jones of Atlanta, were eliminated on Wednesday in the second round of the national championship tournament at Flossmoor, the defeat of Jones by Max Marston of Philadelphia by 2 and 1, furnished the thrilling upset of a day replete with startling developments.

Jess Sweetser of New York kept in the race to defend his title by overcoming Dave Herron of Chicago, a former titlist, 4 and 3, and Bob Gardner of Chicago, twice holder of the crown, ousting Bill Fownes of Pittsburgh, another former champion, 2 and 1.

In another close match that kept the crowd on edge for hours, Francis Ouimet of Boston, formerly national open and amateur champion, finally outgolfed Willie Hunter of Los Angeles, formerly premier golfer of Great Britain and won, 3 and 2.

Another former title holder to survive was Jesse Guilford of Boston, who had a comparatively easy time in defeating Dexter Cummings of Chicago, inter-collegiate champion, 1 and 8.

In the other two matches, George Von Elm, of Salt Lake City, playing superlative golf at times, defeated Jim Manion of St. Louis, 6 and 5, Joe Wells of East Liverpool, O., ousted H. K. B. Davis of San Francisco, 4 and 3. Thus removing all the far west contenders except Von Elm and Denmore Shue of Huntington, W. Va., eliminating Ned Allis of Milwaukee, 5 and 3.

JONES SHOTS 70 IN MORNING

The defeat of Jones, following that of Evans, who had tied with Jones for low qualifying score, at 149, caused the greatest excitement of the day. Jones' downfall was all the more impressive, because he not only shot a record of 70, for the 8,704 course in the morning, breaking par by four strokes and adjourning for luncheon 2 up, but he kept within two strokes of par on the afternoon round, only to lose a collection of birds that netted Marston the advantage.

HIGH SCHOOL GRID CANDIDATES SHOW PEP AND AMBITION

Practice At Jones Park Sadly Hindered By Crowds Of Meddlesome Kids

With practically nothing but new and inexperienced men to work with, Coach David Wilson of Appleton High school is spending several hours a day pounding his grid squads into line for a practice game with the Lawrence freshmen eleven on which he plans early next week. Few of his candidates weigh more than 150 pounds, and all but one or two of those who came through last term's studies on the right side of the record are having their first taste of football this season, but the 30 or 40 boys who are turning out every afternoon, show so much pep and willingness to learn that they are making rapid progress and show signs of real talent.

INTERFERE WITH DRILL

Since the Lawrence college squads began to drill on their field, Wilson has been forced to take his men to Jones park, where they are exceedingly hampered by crowds of small boys who insist upon crowding the teams on every side, making it practically impossible for them to move freely. To make matters worse, the air is full of stones, apples and other missiles thrown by those meddlesome youngsters, and the only effect of pleadings and admonitions to make room for the players is to bring them up closer in greater numbers than ever. The park is big enough to afford room for everyone, and if any of the small boys who refuse to heed all warnings should be injured, he will have only himself to blame.

POLICE PROBE DEATH OF BOXER, 18, IN BOUT

By Associated Press
Minneapolis—Death of Walter Gretchel, 18, boxer of this city, during his appearance Wednesday night in the ring at an amateur football club benefit show here, was being investigated by the police and the coroner's office Thursday. Three men were under arrest.

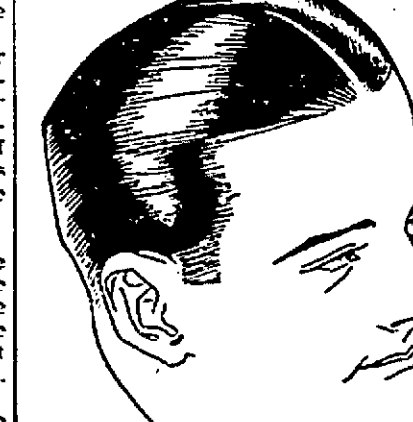

Gretchel fell to the floor in the second round of his bout with Conrau Becklund, 20, and died within a few moments. Witnesses differed in their stories to police as to whether any hard blows had been struck. Some said Gretchel went down without being hit.

MARQUETTE LOSES THREE VETERAN FOOTBALL STARS

Cy Perkins Finally Stops Collins' Steal

Philadelphia—Perkins of the Philadelphia Athletics is considered one of the best catchers in either major league. As a matter of fact, a number of experts consider him the premier backstop of the big show.

Perkins does everything well, but no one thing better than throw. He has a wonderful arm and gets away with the Philadelphia pitchers permit opposing runners to get a big lead, but despite this Perkins turns most of them back.

Eddie Collins of the Chicago White Sox and George Sisler of the Browns, who has been out of the game all season because of eye trouble, are two of the best base runners in the American league. There is little to choose between them, yet Sisler has always been easy for Perkins to throw out, while Collins has been correspondingly tough.

After the contest Perkins remarked, "Although I have been in the American league a number of years that is the first time I can ever remember throwing out Eddie Collins. It has always seemed that every time he started to steal on me, something always happened to make the attempt successful. Throwing Collins out today is the first time in my career, if my memory serves me correctly, and I have been trying to do it for over a half dozen years."

Recently in a game between Chicago and the Athletics which Mack's club won 3 to 2, Collins in the eighth inning hit safely and a moment later tried to steal second. Pitcher Harris permitted him to get away to a flying start, and only a remarkable throw by Perkins made it possible to get Collins at second. That throw just about saved the game.

After the contest Perkins remarked, "Although I have been in the American league a number of years that is the first time I can ever remember throwing out Eddie Collins. It has always seemed that every time he started to steal on me, something always happened to make the attempt successful. Throwing Collins out today is the first time in my career, if my memory serves me correctly, and I have been trying to do it for over a half dozen years."

APPLETON SHOOTING CLUB HOLDS TARGET PRACTICE

Marksmen of the Appleton Angling and Shooting club Friday started a target shoot at the club's grounds in preparation for the hunting they expect to do now that the season has opened.

The following are the scores made:

Targets	Hits
C. L. Hilsenberg	125 37
C. W. Stribley	100 85
Mrs. C. W. Stribley	100 80
E. H. Wright	75 45
I. C. Berg	75 47
Wm. Falatic	50 43
H. W. Getchow	50 41
George Puth	50 41
C. W. McFarlane	50 33
C. M. Bullard	50 30
G. H. Packard	50 30
A. Grizmacher	50 28
Max Elias	50 26
Eric Galpin	50 25
Mark Catlin	25 19
Jim Wood	25 17

all three of the banned players hail from this section of the woods. Clark Fisher is from Green Bay, Francis Dillett from Shawano and Earl McCormack from Antigo. This "downpour" sure put a crimp in Coach Murray's hopes as the trio loomed up as likely looking backfield material.

Preparations for the world series are already under way and from the looks of things Father Knickerbocker is again to stage the baseball classic right in his own backyard.

FOOTWEAR

That Make Glad Feet

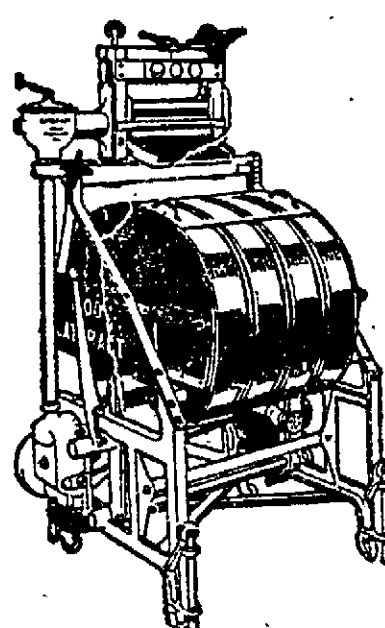

If your feet could tell what kind of footwear they want they would beg for ours.
Every pain is but the foot's outcry for mercy. Why not listen? Why crowd your feet into ill-fitting, hurtful footwear, when you can get footwear that embodies ease, comfort and grace

Guaranteed—To wash more clothes—cleaner, in one-half the time, positively without any wear on the clothes as there are no moving parts in the tub to come in contact with the clothes—it cleans without harm to the most delicate fabric. That is really the secret of its popularity. The reason why it has been so widely imitated. But never equalled, as the secret of its efficiency is controlled by basic patents.

THE TUB IS THE ONLY ONE THAT SWINGS AS IT ROCKS

Creating by comparison the greatest water action of any washer made—and that is what cleans. The only washer that we know of that really does wash cuffs and collar-bands CLEAN. Certainly you can't go wrong in giving this great washer a trial. It has been chosen by the world's greatest experts to do more of the work of washing than any other and to save more clothes as well as more time and money.
